Balloon Lands On Prairie and Wins

Saskatchewan People See Gas Bags Which Left City of Omaha

Army Balloon No. 2 Lands Near Hutton, Sask., Not Far From Alberta Border and Crew Wins U.S. National Trophy

GOODYEAR VII ALSO IN SASKATCHEWAN

Canadian Press and Associated Press Dispatches
Omaha, Neb., June 1.—Officials of the Omaha Air Race Association received a telegram at noon to-day from Lieutenant Wilfred J. Paul, pilot of the No. 2 army balloon in the national balloon race, notifying them the bag had landed at 1 a.m. to-day thirteen miles north of Hutton, Saskatchewan. This caused it to win the race and the Litchfield Trophy.

Hutton, Sask., June 1.—Army balloon No. 2, participating in the United States national balloon race from Omaha, Nebraska, landed near here at a few minutes after 1 a.m., mountain time, to-day. The big bag was brought down at a point mid-way between this point and Richmond, Sask., on the Alberta-Saskatchewan border line, during a heavy rainstorm.

Yesterday evening it was believed the No. 2 army balloon had excellent prospects of reaching Edmonton. This caused great interest. With Edmonton unofficially estimated at about 1,250 air miles from Omaha, had Lieut. Paul reached it, he would have broken the record of 1,072 miles set in 1925 by W. T. Van Orman when he soared from San Antonio, Texas, to Rochester, Minn.

OTHER BAGS DOWN
The Goodyear VII, piloted by Roland Blair and Frank Trotter, traveled approximately 750 miles from Omaha, settling near Tynan, Sask. Approximate distances covered by the other four pilots were: Capt. W. J. Flood, United States army No. 1, 600 miles; Tracy Southworth, Chevrolet Motor Company balloon, 410 miles; E. J. Hill, City of Omaha, 450 miles, and Pete Larsen, Omaha Junior Chamber of Commerce entry, ten miles.

"The army No. 2 in last previous reports was sighted late yesterday about 150 miles southwest of Regina.

TALKED AT GULL LAKE
Last of the six balloons starting Monday to remain aloft, the army balloon No. 2 was brought to within 60 feet of the ground near Gull Lake, Sask., at 8 o'clock yesterday evening so its pilot could get bearings.

Gunmen Disappear After Two Holdups

Police Net Spread For Pair of Young Bandits After Series of Thefts

Daylight Armed Robberies Linked With Theft of Revolvers From Store

Two young armed bandits who stole four automobiles and staged two hold-ups, in which they secured $36 here yesterday afternoon, were the object of police search to-day after disappearing in the Foul Bay district, near Ross Bay Cemetery.

Working on a description furnished by the hold-up victims, the police threw out a net yesterday evening, but up to an early hour this afternoon no trace had been discovered of the gunmen who dropped from sight as quickly as they appeared.

They were seen four times, twice in the hold-ups and twice while stealing cars. They carried three guns between them.

Provincial and district police combined forces with the city in an effort to catch the men who committed the first daylight hold-ups here for many years. During the night the police were called out to two powder alarms but these, it is believed, had no connection with the hold-up pair.

CROSS CONTINENT SEEKING BONUS

When the throng of United States war veterans from the Pacific Coast, pictured above, rolled on motor trucks into Washington, accompanied by other hands from eastern states, all totaling 1,300, they created an unprecedented problem for the administration of the capital city of the republic. They were provided with tents and food for a couple of days, and were told they must not stay too long as that would cripple the relief system of Washington and leave needy residents of the city without help. The men want Congress to vote immediate payment of a promised bonus to all Great War veterans, but as that would boost the nation's outlay by $2,000,000,000 the legislators realize it is a question not to be decided lightly. The men above crossed the country partly in freight trains and partly on motor trucks that were placed at their disposal. Towns and cities fed them. They have not yet got back home.

Papen Cabinet In Office In Germany

Ministry of Right Approved By President von Hindenburg; Hitlerites Neutral Toward New Administration

Berlin, June 1.—Franz von Papen, wartime associate of President von Hindenburg in the Kaiser's imperial army, to-day succeeded in forming a Rightist cabinet. His list was submitted to the President early to-night and was accepted.

Hitler's headquarter announced late yesterday evening the Nazis would not support a cabinet formed by Franz von Papen, former officer of the general staff of the imperial army, who was selected by President Paul von Hindenburg, former field marshal, to succeed Dr. Heinrich Brüning as chancellor.

To-day, however, later counsel in the Nazi camp tended toward a policy of neutrality toward a von Papen cabinet until such time as a general election will be most convenient, which, it was said, would probably be after harvest time, when the farmers would have time to listen to political speeches.

SHY ON CONFERENCE
The final decision of the Nazi position was still to be formally made, however, but there was also a tendency to avoid responsibility for the coming Lausanne conference on war debts and reparations and the odium which might come from a failure of the conference.

"FEUDAL" CABINET
As a result of the new Nazi attitude the Von Papen cabinet seemed to-day to have a chance of governing Germany, at least for a short time. The newspapers dubbed it a "feudal" cabinet on account of the prospect of its being dominated by members of the old German nobility.

Von Papen is a member of the Centre (Catholic) Party, but belongs to the army branch.

One of the reasons why the President dispensed with Dr. Brüning's services was because he felt the army would not be behind him in case of disorders.

SALE OF BONDS NEAR $110,000

As a result of the increase in sales during the last few days, civic officials stated this morning they were confident the whole of the city's $200,000 debenture refunding issue would be subscribed within the next two weeks. Sales this morning brought the total up to $90,000, leaving slightly more than $110,000 of the issue on hand. This was regarded as an exceptionally good showing in view of the fact that the sale has been conducted on the "over-the-counter" plan.

OTTAWA WINS $42,000 PRIZE

E. N. Soper Holds Ticket on Miracle in Irish Hospitals Sweepstake

Quebec Woman and New Yorker Each Win $22,000 in Army and Navy

Canadian Press
Ottawa, June 1.—"Miracle," finishing third in the Derby at Epsom Downs to-day, brought luck and a tidy purse to Ebert N. Soper, prominent Ottawa, who held the prize winning ticket in the Irish Sweepstakes draw. His ticket will net him about $42,000 at the present rate of exchange.

"It is a miracle all right," Mr. Soper declared when advised on Monday that he was a lucky ticket holder.

Mr. Soper bought the ticket in Canada, France, from where he and Mrs. Soper returned a short time ago after a holiday overseas.

"I happened to be in the Cannes branch of an English bank one day and having heard of the tickets being sold thought I would like one," he said. "I asked the teller of the bank if I could get one and he was able to oblige me."

Mr. Soper is a son of the late Warren Y. Soper, and is a director of several large Ottawa companies, including the Ottawa Electric Company.

Another Ottawa, Mrs. P. Bird, a widow, held a ticket on "Summer Flirt," and is assured of at least $5,000.

Montreal, June 1.—Miss M. Costigan, St. Lambert, Que., and Michel Roemer, the Bronx, New York, are holders of tickets on "April the Fifth" in the Army and Navy Veterans' Sweepstakes on the Derby. Their prizes will approximate $22,000 each.

Tickets on the second horse, "Dastur," are held by Miss Annie Daly, Brighton, Mass., and Partners (955 Valour Road), Winnipeg. They are worth about $11,000. Tickets on "Miracle," which ran third, are held by Miss Jane Wilson, Montreal, and Mr. and Mrs. Hildebrandt, New York City. The three prize tickets will have a value of about $55,000.

Fourth prize tickets, worth about $2,750 each, are held by Edward Kurn (Turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

DEATH MOURNED

LATE A. MELVILLE DOLLAR

SHIP LEADER PASSES AWAY

A. Melville Dollar Dies in Garage at His Home in Vancouver

Canadian Press
Vancouver, June 1.—A. Melville Dollar, fifty-three, prominent British Columbia shipping man, son of the late Capt. Robert Dollar, collapsed and died before medical aid could be obtained at his family residence, 3890 Hudson Avenue, late yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Dollar reached his home from the city shortly after 4 p.m. and had run his automobile into the garage. He was presumably stricken as he was about to alight from the machine.

For the last two years he had been under medical care for a heart ailment. He had returned only yesterday from San Francisco, where he had attended the funeral of his father.

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, June 1.—Roy Hopkins, Victoria youth, was admitted to the local hospital early this morning suffering from painful injuries to his shoulder and a lacerated back as the result of his automobile overturning at Hilliers Crossing, thirty miles from here. The hospital reports his condition very satisfactory.

RED CHINESE ARMY CRUSHED

Hangkow, China, June 1.—Military authorities to-day announced provincial troops defending the Wuhan district had administered a crushing defeat to the Chinese communists who had menaced the area for many weeks.

Three thousand of the enemy were killed, and another 1,000 were driven into the Han River, where they drowned, the bulletin said. Scores of bodies were floating down the Yangtze toward this city, it was reported.

The military authorities said the victory had definitely removed the communist threat.

Party Ready For Election at Any Time, Pattullo Says on Return

Appreciation of the enthusiasm of Liberal workers of British Columbia as demonstrated at the meeting of the provincial executive in New Westminster this week was voiced by T. D. Pattullo, Liberal leader, on his return to Victoria this morning.

Ninety representatives attended the meeting, Mr. Pattullo reported, and statements presented showed the party was making great strides in all parts of the province with willing workers in every district ready to make self-sacrificing efforts for the Liberal cause.

Informal discussions on prospects of an early election in British Columbia showed the party was in good shape for a contest at the polls at any time.

Mr. Pattullo expressed himself in favor of an early convention of the party. This matter was left in the hands of Mrs. M. E. Smith, chairman, and a committee. At the Kamloops convention of the party Victoria was chosen for the next convention, which it is probable will be held within the next three months. The Liberal platform for the province has been frequently announced and will probably be placed in the form of a clear-cut election manifesto at the convention.

Mr. Pattullo was unanimously endorsed as leader at the meeting and a resolution of loyalty and confidence in him was passed.

DOLLAR SWINGS ON EXCHANGE

New York, June 1.—Canadian and British currencies firmed slightly in late trading to-day on the local foreign exchange market. The Canadian dollar closed at 87 13-16 cents in United States funds, down 3-16 of a cent from yesterday's final quotation, but 1-16 higher than the noon price. The pound sterling finished at 2.68 3/4, off 3/4 from the previous close, but 1/4 cent higher than its opening quotations.

World Conference On Commodity Prices

Britain Takes Lead in Arranging For Nations to Discuss Means of Stabilization

London, June 1.—The government is consulting the nations of Europe about the value of a world conference in easing the general economic crisis.

This was revealed to-day by Sir John Simon, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, in the Commons.

The consultation had been inspired, he said, by a request from Andrew W. Mellon, United States ambassador, who had asked if the British government believed a world conference to consider the universal slump in commodity prices would ameliorate the economic depression.

Sir John indicated the Lausanne conference of European powers, including Great Britain, starting June 16, must naturally complicate the situation.

COLWOOD BETS TOTAL $118,685

Daily Average Was $3,000 Lower Than Last Year

Although staged three weeks earlier than last year's opening races, the meet concluded last Saturday at Colwood Park drew almost as much money from the public as in 1931.

A year ago the pari-mutuels handled $119,620, while this year $118,685 passed through the totalizer. However, racing was cancelled one day last year due to heavy rainfall. On that basis the average daily betting last week was approximately $3,000 below last year's wagering.

Betting exceeded $20,000 on two days only, this year. The daily wagers were: May 21, $17,549; May 23, $12,980; Victoria Day, $22,531; May 25, $12,698; May 26, $19,078; May 27, $15,892 and Saturday, May 28, $23,362.

Excluding the holiday and two Saturdays, the figures show little change in the remaining four days, less than $1,000 difference being bet on any week day.

Tom Wall's Colt, Starting at 100 to 6, Finishes Three-quarters of Length in Front of Dastur; Miracle Third

ORWELL, FAVORITE, FINISHES WELL BACK

Dastur Sets Early Pace But Falters in Stretch; King George and Queen Mary Attend

Canadian Press
Epsom Downs, Eng., June 1.—T. Wall's colt April the Fifth, by Craig Aheran out of Sold Again, won the 152nd renewal of the blue riband of the English turf, the Epsom Derby, to-day.

The Aga Khan's Dastur, colt by Solario out of Friar's Daughter, ran second, and Lord Rosebery's Miracle, colt by Manna out of Brodie Bay, ran third.

Twenty-one horses went the mile and a half of the historic Derby course.

The betting was 100 to 6 against April the Fifth, 18 to 1 against Dastur, and 100 to 9 against Miracle.

April the Fifth raced to the finish line three-quarters of a length in front of Dastur, and Miracle in third place. The course this season was only a short head further back than in 1926.

Jockey Lane piloted April the Fifth to the win over the finest three-year-olds of the English turf, including W. M. G. G. Singer's colt Orwell, who had been warm favorite for some months.

WINS IN SLOW TIME
The winner's time was two minutes and forty-three seconds, over a fairly slow track, the slowest time since 1926.

Beary had the mount on Dastur and Harry Wragg rode Miracle.

E. Emond's Royal Dancer, the only one of the starters to start a race over the Downs course this season previous to to-day, was fourth, and Aga Khan's Firdausi ran fifth.

The other starters (not in order of finish) were: Andros, Bacchus, Buckle, Cledeator, Crocker, King George, Jackdaw Second, Jiveh, Orwell, Peter Planet, Portofino, Spenser, Summer Planet, Totius and Wyvern.

April the Fifth ran three times as a two-year-old without any success. Orwell, the defeated favorite, suffered his first loss in eight starts. The only other time he was defeated was in his maiden start.

ORWELL WEAKENS
To-day, however, Orwell proved those who doubted his staying powers were mainly right. He did not stand up under the quelling mile and a half over the tough Derby course. Famed for his early speed, Orwell was well up among the front division for the first part of the run but weakened when the final test approached and finished well back.

The victory of April the Fifth came as a complete surprise to the estimated crowds of 1,000,000. King George and Queen Mary and other members of the royal family saw the running. April the Fifth's owner, Tom Walls, is a movie star, trainer and all-around sportsman.

From an excellent start, Cockpen jumped into the lead, closely followed by April the Fifth and Bacchus with Miracle and Orwell not far off the pace.

At the half-way mark, Lord Derby's Portofino took command with Firdausi, Cockpen, Miracle and Orwell within striking distance. When the field reached Tattenham Corner, the critical point in the race, Portofino was still out in front.

DASTUR IN FRONT
A quarter of a mile from the finish line, Dastur bounded to the front, setting a fast pace. April the Fifth was running strongly on the outside, however, and in the last 100 yards caught the Aga Khan's color-bearer and won going away. Dastur just managed to stave off the mad rush of Miracle.

Orwell Gradually dropped behind in the stretch run, finishing ninth. Victor Emanuel's Totius and Rich Croker's Delabator and Corey, the American-owned horses, were far behind.

Walls, who recently returned from the South Seas, said he was considering changing the name of the winner to June the First. "Despite the defeat of the warm favorite, Walls was given a tremendous ovation as he led his colt into the winner's circle."

Burns Lake, B.C., June 1.—Ice conditions at McConnell Creek will prevent any planes alighting on McConnell Lake until June 6, according to Pilot E. F. H. Wells of the Canadian Airways, who took off from here on Friday for the McConnell Creek diggings on his first trip in with pontoons. Finding McConnell Lake still frozen over, he was compelled to return to Thudade Lake, seventy miles distant, where he alighted on the only stretch of open water in a hundred miles.

COSTLY FISCAL FOLLY

ANOTHER ARRESTING EXAMPLE OF how tariff battles penalize those who fight them comes from South America. Some time ago, it may be recalled, certain politicians in Chile became fascinated by the prospect of the protection of home industries and saw a way to accomplish this object by excluding Argentine cattle from the Chilean market. They had their way and the embargo went into effect. It did not take the Argentine government long to retaliate by shutting out Chilean products from the Argentine market. Thus business between the two countries came practically to a standstill.

This, however, is only part of the story. It is necessary to go back to the end of the last century—the beginning of the history of the railway which was responsible for building up trade between the two republics. Between Valparaiso on the west and Buenos Aires on the east runs the impassable barrier of the Andes, and until the transandine railway was built there existed no communication between Argentina and Chile except by long detours to the north or south, or skirting the continent by sea. But with the construction of that railway the two countries were linked in a straight line; since then trade has flown in a steady and profitable stream. It might have continued to flow in this way until the end of time; but the tariff makers have interfered.

The tragic part of this business is that the highest railway in the world immediately felt the effects of serious reduced demand for its services. It got so bad that a short time ago its management sealed the tunnel which joins the two countries together. Not only is this a tragic situation; it is ludicrous as well. Mails between the two countries must now go by way of New York, and the ox-cart is again being pressed into service. They are plodding their way along the passes to the north and south of the border; a fine railway, known by tourists the world over, has had to yield its place to these elementary freight carriers. It would be difficult to find a more ridiculous and costly case of fiscal folly. It is, however, symptomatic of the present state of a tariff-mad world.

THAT THOUSAND DOLLARS

IN A COMMUNICATION IN OUR CORRESPONDENCE columns Mr. H. Hastings interprets our comment of a few days ago, headed "On to Jamaica," as an expression of hostility to his prolific contributions to the morning paper in the interests of the Tolmie government and the Conservative party. In this he is quite mistaken. The Times has no objection to any letters Mr. Hastings may write to the press, or to his political opinions or activities, whether in support of the Tolmie government or against the Liberal party. That is Mr. Hastings's own business. But it does object to the government paying for those activities with the money of the taxpayers of this province. If the government feels that his services in this respect are of value to it in a political sense, it should reward them out of its party campaign pot, not out of the public treasury.

Admittedly it is less incumbent upon Mr. Hastings to justify his receipt of the thousand dollars the government paid him than it is upon the government to justify the circumstances in which that amount was paid. He suggests facetiously that he might be sent to Paris. This sounds somewhat ominous, for it would surprise nobody if the government, in recognition of his admiration for it, took him seriously and sent him to the gay French capital to promote trade between France and British Columbia; it has done many things just about as foolish. But the taxpayers would not be charged with the cost of the adventure.

The excuse offered by the Minister of Agriculture for giving a thousand dollars to Mr. Hastings, during the proceedings of the Public Accounts Committee in which the payment was discovered, was that this gentleman had made several trips to Jamaica for the promotion of the citrus fruit trade between that island and this province, that he had obtained important data on the subject, and had been instrumental in promoting imports from Jamaica to British Columbia. But it also developed that these imports had been made on Mr. Hastings's business account, so on the government's own showing it had paid him one thousand dollars to further his private business. Now, if Mr. Hastings had not been a trusty henchman of the government, if he had not been a persistent champion of the provincial administration in letters in the party press, would he have been paid one thousand dollars for his Jamaica activities? Is Mr. Atkinson, or Mr. Hinchliffe, for instance, in the habit of paying sums of this amount to individuals who interest themselves in promoting imports from distant countries, particularly when those imports are used in their own private business? Indeed, how many faithful Conservatives who do not write letters to the party press have been remunerated in this way?

Mr. Hastings says his activities in connection with the import of citrus fruits from Jamaica constituted a contribution to inter-empire trade. For that matter, all importers of goods from other parts of the empire are contributors in that direction, but there is no record that they are receiving a thousand dollars each for their efforts from the provincial government. Incidentally, as the government itself not infrequently has declared, the promotion of Canada's trade and commerce is especially reserved under the constitution for the national government, which maintains a department especially charged with that function and stations trade commissioners at various important points throughout the world, including Jamaica. Hon. H. H. Stevens, British Columbia's representative in the federal government, is Minister of Trade and Commerce. Mr. Hastings admires the Ottawa government, as ardently as he does the provincial government, but there is no record that Ottawa paid him anything. Perhaps it does not read his letters in the party press. Shortly before the close of the session of the Legislature the following illuminating letter, pertinent to this incident and addressed to Premier Tolmie from some fifteen fruit wholesalers in Vancouver, was read to the House by Mr. Pearson:

Our attention was drawn to an item in yesterday's press relative to a payment of $1,000 to a Mr. Hastings. According to the report this money was given by the government to this party to help defray expenses incurred on his trip to Jamaica in connection with the introduction of Jamaica citrus fruits into this province.

For your information, citrus fruits from Jamaica have been imported by established Vancouver wholesale fruit firms for the past several years and at considerable expense, and when the government of this province has the audacity to subsidize to the extent of $1,000 of taxpayers' money, an individual who not only pays little, if any, taxes, has practically no investment in his business and goes directly to the retail trade with his wares to the detriment of the regular wholesale jobbers, then it is time to call a halt to such unwarranted squandering of public funds. What right has the government to jeopardize the business of accredited wholesale fruit dealers whose investments in Vancouver and Victoria approximate $1,500,000 (upon which heavy taxes must be paid), and with an annual payroll of approximately $375,000?

The trouble with those wholesalers was that however direct their association was with Jamaica, they did not have the right kind of contact with the sympathetic ear of our Minister of Agriculture and the provincial treasury.

TOO MANY AGAIN

MEMBERS OF THE LEARNED PROFESSIONS have year by year become more emphatic over the alleged overcrowding of their callings. Since the general contraction started in 1929, the condition has been intensified. It is similar in all countries. In the United States, for instance, there are 160,000 practicing members of the Bar. But although paying clients per lawyer have been fewer and fewer, the qualified lawyers are facing a still more attenuated professional condition, as in the law schools there are now 40,000 students about to emerge and swell their ranks.

How different things were in the good old days. Mr. Justice Cordozo, of the Supreme Court of the United States the other day recalled how in the English colonial period before the American revolution, the assembly of the province passed an act to regulate the number of lawyers any one litigant might employ. The trouble was there were not enough lawyers to go around. The services of a lawyer were thus rated as a luxury. It was necessary to apportion them under laws similar to those enacted to distribute as widely as possible the enjoyment of the other luxuries of life. The maximum number of lawyers any person was allowed to employ was fixed at two. If more were retained, the colonial statute ruled that "it shall be lawful for the justices of the bench where the suit is depending to order all such attorneys as shall be retained more than two, as aforesaid, to plead for the other side, without returning the fee received."

"There was poetic justice for you," as Mr. Justice Cordozo commented. But he went on to suggest that there should be a provision that every lawyer should be furnished with two clients.

So much for a Supreme Court Justice in a whimsical mood. There remains the actual condition resulting from the rush to college during the last decade of the youth of this and other countries. This unprecedented crowding to college has kept the university finance boards sitting up at nights. Now as the crowd of recruits presses on out of the colleges to enter the practice field of law, medicine, teaching and engineering, the concern of the university boards is extended to those who guide the professions. Who knows but what we will next be calling upon our colleges to turn to educating clients for the over-manned professions, in an effort to balance our social structure.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL HIGHWAY

The estimated cost of the work to be done on the transcontinental highway, in accordance with the 1931 Unemployment Relief Act, works out at a total of $9,996,972.71, of which sum the federal government has agreed to defray half, and the provinces. One detail is very significant in the account of the money disbursed so far: three-fourths of this has been expended in Ontario. This is because of the onerous work performed in the rocky and extremely difficult regions north of Lake Superior. On the stretch of road which runs from Nipigon to the border of Manitoba, explosives have had to be much used. The transcontinental route which the Conservatives, during the electoral campaign of 1930, undertook to construct, is an absurd project from every point of view.

THANKS, MR. GUTHRIE

The Border Cities Star
 When the newspapers predicted with accuracy the contents of the report of the committee inquiring into the Civil Service administration, they set the House of Commons in a bit of a turmoil. While Prime Minister Bennett and others assured Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King that the newspapers could not have been given anything official on the matter, Hon. Hugh Guthrie made a neat little speech about the functions of newspaper reporters.

Here is what the Minister of Justice said: "If it is only a newspaper reporter's forecast of what a committee is going to report, I do not imagine any one can take very serious objection to it, and if the newspaper reporter has made a correct guess, I do not think anybody can take very serious objection." Mr. Guthrie is an old hand at politics. He knows very well that good newspaper reporters have a knack of getting facts. His little remark about "a correct guess" intimated to the members of Parliament that it is not easy to keep the facts dark.

EMPIRE TRADE

Le Soleil, Quebec
 For years the trade of Britain with other parts of the empire has been unfavorable to her. This state of things cannot endure indefinitely. Above all, the Old Country cannot go on paying for the luxury of breaking her commercial relations with the rest of the world with the object of only doing business with the empire from which at present she is only realizing losses. Here is the crux of the problem, and we are afraid that it may be difficult to solve it at one conference, where there will undoubtedly be more fine words than practical effects. This is not what we want. But it is just as well to foresee the difficulties, in order to prepare to overcome them. There is no use in optimistic outbursts, if we are to experience another fiasco through a lack of serious reflection and a sensible economic point of view.

A THOUGHT

Cast thy bread upon the waters; for thou shalt find it after many days.—Ecclesiastes xi 1.
 A poor man served by thee, shall make you rich.—Mrs. Browning.

Loose Ends

The skyscraper habit—for millionaires who have lost nothing worth losing—some profound thoughts thereon—and some impossible questions.

By H. B. W.

MILLIONAIRES CONTINUE to jump out of skyscraper windows in direct ratio to the intensity of the depression. When the statistics for jumpings begin to decrease you may be sure, by the same direct ratio, that business is increasing. When a full month goes by without a single millionaire jumping out of a skyscraper, it will be safe to assume that good times have returned. It is curious, though, how millionaires react to the loss of a lot of money, even though they still have a lot left, whereas the poor man, having lost a thousand dollars, every cent he owns, goes on smiling. There is hardly a poor man on this Continent who hasn't lost heavily, but so far as I know few of them have jumped off anything higher than a barber's chair. The luxury of jumping off skyscrapers, by a singular injustice, is reserved for the rich.

THE POINT seems to be that by the time you have made a lot of money, your whole outlook on money has been changed in the process. The money itself, apart altogether from the things it will buy, the possession of so many dollars, becomes extraordinarily important. You think in terms of money, and the more dollars you have, the more important does a dollar become; which is entirely absurd mathematically, and logically, but nevertheless quite true, for if you ask any business man he will tell you that the shrewdest customers, the hardest boiled, are always the wealthy. The poor man, not having had so much to do with money, not having seen it frequently, and having got along without any large amounts of it, does not become unbalanced on the subject. He knows that if he loses a dollar he loses a dollar, not his happiness or his immortal soul. Consequently he goes on his way as before. It doesn't occur to him to jump off a skyscraper because he has lost nine-tenths of what he had yesterday. He gets along on the remaining tenth, and keeps away from skyscrapers.

I WONDER IF it ever occurred to you or to the gentlemen who lately have been using skyscrapers for disagreeable purposes, that money may have no value at all before this business is finished, and yet most of us will lose little or nothing in the process. It is quite conceivable that even gold some day will be worth nothing. We may get back to barter. Indeed, if the nations would get back to barter, exchanging real wealth for real wealth, instead of trying to elevate themselves on a pile of gold, all our present troubles would disappear overnight. If money becomes worthless, I suppose all the millionaires will jump off skyscrapers, and it may be that there won't be enough skyscrapers to go round. This is a matter to which governments should give their earnest attention, and just the kind of thing to which, if their conduct in other directions may be considered a criterion, they will give their earnest attention. But it will be hard on us in this particular business, who have nothing to barter, no tangible wealth. A farmer has some food, a tailor has clothes, a miner has coal, but writing fellows have only ideas, and very often few of them. And, as has been demonstrated everywhere in recent times, the public at large doesn't want ideas. It will undergo untold miseries to escape them. We shall have to keep our ideas to ourselves, and if they are no better than mine at this moment we shall perish very rapidly of starvation.

HOWEVER, WHAT I had intended to say has been set down much more ably by Mr. Channing Pollock, the distinguished American writer. He says that after the Armistice he was in Austria and had 14,000,000 kronen when Austrian money was almost worthless. "Austrian millions," said Mr. Pollock to a friend, "don't buy anything." Said his friend, a distinguished and successful man, who had been richly and achieved greatly, "Neither will any other millions. Dollars, yes, by the hundreds. Or by thousands if you have tasted beyond eating and drinking and wearing. But not millions. Millions, my friend, are always Austrian money."

MR. POLLOCK says he recently made a list of the fifty things which he valued most in life. On examination, he discovered that forty-eight of them hadn't cost him a cent; whereas his attic was littered with things that had cost money and the sacrifice of independence and leisure. It seems rather a waste of energy to jump off a skyscraper on account of the loss of such trash when there are so many more interesting things to be had free. Before jumping it will be well to make a list like Mr. Pollock's.

SOME EXCELLENT but over-hopeful folk have been writing me of late, asking for a reply. They want to know a number of things which I probably could tell them, since a column like this is commonly supposed to know everything. But I am not going to tell them, not because I don't know the answers, but because if I began that sort of thing, I should have no time for the contemplation and study necessary to know answers, nor for the other small matter of writing this column. I have been asked among other things to criticize poetry, to reveal the true facts about judges' salaries, and to put one reader into touch with another reader who claims to be an authority on nudism. As I say, I appreciate these attentions and these marks of confidence, but I simply can't enter upon such a program. What I like to get are not letters that require me to work, but ones which, by providing free material for this column, do my work for me. Anybody is welcome to send in as much of that kind of stuff as he likes. But if you want individual answers to wise or foolish questions, write to Dorothy Dix or that lady who writes so ably on your baby animal man. Your baby, kind reader, is none of my business.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

June 1, 1907

(From The Times Files)

After a conference with Dr. T. J. McGill University it was decided by the local board that the course in secondary arts at Victoria College would be available immediately, but that the first year course in applied science would not be feasible until September of next year. Victoria will now enjoy all the advantages of the Royal Institute of Learning.

Old-time Victorians, at a meeting held yesterday evening, in the city hall, decided, unanimously, that the old cemetery on Quadra Street should remain consecrated for all time.

Weather forecast—Light to moderate winds, generally fair, not much change in temperature. The temperature at Victoria yesterday was forty-seven.

Steve Gallion is still named as favorite in the Derby to be run on June 5 at Epsom Downs.

Serious conflicts between police and peasants are noted in dispatches from Ireland. Riots are prevalent in Erin at the present time, especially in King's County and North Tipperary.

FUNERAL SERVICES

To the Editor:—May I through your paper give a courteous reminder to the two attend funeral services that it is very disturbing to have to listen at times to an almost continuous conversation carried on in a whisper while waiting for the last solemn service for the one who has passed away to begin? All have come presumably out of respect or affection and to hear a constant twitter in the seats behind or around is very trying to those whose hearts are full at the loss of a friend.

This short time might well be spent in serious meditation and prayer. It is a matter of thoughtful consideration for others and of respect for the solemnity of the occasion. Trusting this appeal may be received in the spirit in which it is written.

VICTORIAN.

MR. HASTINGS REPLIES

To the Editor:—My attention has been called to your editorial in your Saturday's issue, in which my name was mentioned. I take it that, in fairness to me, you will publish my answer.

I cannot quite make out whether it is the introduction of Jamaica citrus fruits into British Columbia, in competition with American interests which have caused your ire, or is it the substance of my letter which appeared in the Colonist on Saturday. Somehow, I appear to have hit the nail so hard on the head, that it has hurt you, or is it the party or interests you support?

You seem to object to my contributions to the press, and you suggest that the Tolmie government might send me on a trip somewhere. If my contributions are as effective as you seem to indicate, it would be more in the interests of the Liberal Party to send me abroad. Perhaps you might persuade Mr. Pattullo to send me to Paris, to see if the Parisians are still as good as the British.

In your editorial you seemed to be annoyed that I support the Tolmie government, and could not see my way to approve of the party you support. Personally, Mr. Editor, you can conscientiously support the present three leaders of the Liberal Party? Can you support men responsible for the atrocious scandals of the Sumas scheme, where, according to the reports, contractors with less than $100 paid up capital, were given contracts which amounted to millions, and when they fell down on their contracts, they were told to proceed without any further written contract, where pay cheques were sent out in spite of the written protests of the Comptroller? Can you support the $780,000 paid out for stool pigeons, some of whom were used to spirit important witnesses away from royal commissions?

When I contribute to the press I, at least, express my own convictions; convictions based on investigations. Can you say the same of what you write? I would not like to believe that newspapermen must purge themselves of a conscience first, and yet I cannot see the necessity for the misrepresentation, and the twisting of facts which have so often appeared in your newspapers which you said I know.

I support the Tolmie government because I have found it a clean and honest government. Mistakes may have been made, but they were human mistakes, honestly made, and more to the point, decently acknowledged when they were made. That they have made mistakes, can that be said of the party which you supported for twelve long years?

Mr. Editor, there is no reason why politics could not be run in a clean and decent manner. In these times, the responsibility of editors of newspapers is tremendous, therefore care should be taken that only the truth is presented to the public. Conscience should not be sacrificed for whatever financial advantages which you think your party will get from a return of the party you support to power. Personally I think the chances are tremendously small, unless you can persuade them to clean house. The Conservatives had to do so before they secured public confidence again. It is not so sufficiently outstanding pointer to you and the party you support?

I can stand all the innuendoes which you can invent to discredit me, so long as I feel that I have, to some extent, contributed to the commercial consolidation of the British Empire.

CANCER COMMISSION

To the Editor:—The press is telling us that the Ontario Government has just issued the most complete document of its kind ever submitted to a government. The report of the Royal Commission on Cancer, a brief outline of this report is one that could have been written by any average layman at his own fireside. Apparently there is nothing new in the findings.

Cancer is a disease of what we call "civilization." Noisy campaigns hold out greedy hands for funds and cry, "Give, give, give!" and though the public has given vast sums, the years of investigation and exploitation are barren of result. Sir Arbuthnot Lane, in 1927, said, "The cancer researcher has had a very long innings, particularly in the United States, and there is practically nothing to show for his efforts."

We might more profitably spend time and money in investigating those avenues of research which associate cancer and race, locality, housing, diet, sanitation and refinement of food, vaccination and inoculation, but such avenues have been sadly neglected. A prominent medical friend in England associates the increase of cancer with the orgy of compulsory vaccination which started in the middle of the last century; he is one of several doctors holding the same viewpoint. Animal cells mature more rapidly than human cells, and a disorganized constitutional balance disturbs cellular tissues. Vaccines and sera are obtained from and tested on animals. Dis-ease (uncase) comes from within, not from without, and is a violation of spiritual and physical laws.

Forty years ago the London Cancer Hospital exhaustively examined and tested the radium cure and abandoned it as useless, as well as dangerous. The leading surgeon remarks that "the cause of any pathological disturbance in the human body will be found in an abnormal condition of cellular life." Some years ago $150,000 was spent in England on radium and four grammes were presented to the Westminster Hospital for use on stomach and throat, but its use was discarded. X-ray and radium, as a mode of treatment, may have extremely undesirable results on the development of the individual in other directions.

Embedded in the middle of the press report on the commission's findings we read, "The solution of the problem of cancer resides in the research laboratory." Research upon legitimate lines is desirable; illegitimate research is that which experiments on helpless animals and human beings. We cannot expect to sow miserable suffering in others and reap good health. It should be obvious that after callously sacrificing millions of wretched animals to a torture that we ourselves wish to be spared, the disease increased steadily, and this is true not only of cancer but of other complaints. Our rewards seem—just enough. What can we have for complaint? What can we have for complaint? Appended are some statements worth recording: Professor Hastings Gilford, formerly Hunterian Professor, Royal College of Surgeons, 1928, "One cannot see an indication of progress. . . . The wheel turns but there is no advance. The gigantic effort all over the civilized world has proved a complete failure. And in 1927: 'It has fallen to my lot to have to make a general survey of cancer in all its aspects, and I do not believe that anyone who does this with an open mind can come to any other conclusion than that to search for the cause or cure of cancer by means of experiments on lower animals is useless. Confirming these views in 1931 he said, 'After thirty years of research, not by much industry from animal sources. . . . we can see to what a deplorable waste of energy and skill and money this academic, aimless to

SYMBOL USED BY KIDNAPERS

The mysterious symbol with which the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby signed the ransom note that was left in the empty crib, and which was later used by them in letters relative to collecting the money, is drawn here from printed descriptions. It contained two outer circles in blue ink, with a circle in red ink in the middle, and a hole in each circle.

In describing the symbol, some have stated that the red circle overlapped the two blue circles, but what purports to be a verbatim copy of the note—giving the family directions for using the symbol in answering—describes it as follows: "Two rings in blue ink with centre ring of red. A blue ink line of the blue circles on the outer edge of the red. A hole on the outer edge of each dark circle, and one in the centre of the red."

It is said that tracings of the symbol were given to underworld characters who were enlisted to aid Col. Lindbergh early in the search, but later dropped from the case.

HEAR ZONING BYLAW DRAFT

Little Change Expected in Esquimalt Regulations to Be Introduced Monday

Judging from the complaints voiced by the half dozen residents who attended the special meeting held by the Esquimalt Council yesterday evening to consider the proposed zoning by-law for that municipality, the drafted by-law will go through with only three minor changes, unless the council, in its reading of the bill, incorporates new ideas into the scheme. Word to this effect was given by Reeve Albert Heald to-day.

The by-law will be given its first readings at the council's next meeting on Monday and will most probably be finally passed two weeks later.

Following that an appeal board of three, one appointed by the council, one by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council and a third appointed by the pair for the post of chairman, will hear complaints.

CONSIDERATION PROMISED

At yesterday evening's meeting Reeve Heald promised consideration to three complaints laid by the residents who attended. They were heard following a sketch of the proposed by-law given by the Reeve. Questions were asked by the residents and explanations were given by H. F. Bourne, municipal engineer.

The plan would not affect buildings now erected, but would impose certain conditions on constructions in the future. It was explained that the municipality will be laid out in six types of districts, residential, apartment, retail, farming, garage and industrial.

GROUP TO NAME RELIEF GANGS

Reeve Heald Appoints Esquimalt Committee of Whole to Distribute Work

To overcome any charge of personal discrimination, Reeve Albert Heald yesterday appointed the Esquimalt Council as a whole a special committee to determine which members of the registered unemployed of the district should be given work at the Esquimalt dockyard. Councillor George Wise was named chairman of the group.

The committee determines each week the personnel of the gang which will be put to work on the relief project. It is the object of the selecting body to give aid to those most in need.

When the scheme was first undertaken some months ago, Reeve Heald was appointed by the council to name those who should work. Some weeks later he explained to the council he would doubtless be charged with discrimination by those men who were not given work. At that time he asked the council as a whole to take over the duty, but his selections during the first week or two were endorsed and the council voiced its confidence in his ability to choose deserving cases.

Yesterday's action was taken to overcome any possibility of charges of discrimination being laid against him.

CELEBRATION IS DISCUSSED

Committee Plans Dominion Day Attractions for City

Preliminary arrangements for celebration of Dominion Day in Victoria were discussed at a meeting of the organization committee in the city hall yesterday evening. Regular weekly meetings will be held until plans are consummated.

Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., is chairman of the committee, but will be replaced shortly, as he will leave for England.

One of the main features of the celebration will be the N.P.A.C. regatta at Elk Lake on July 1 and 2. In this connection the J.B.A.A. is co-operating with the committee and will arrange entertainments and dances.

Outdoor motorboat races by the Victoria Hydroplane Club, lawn bowling competitions and track and field sports are among the attractions under consideration.

The Victoria Ministerial Association has been requested to arrange a special united service to commemorate confederation on Sunday, July 3.

Next Tuesday, chairman of the various subcommittees will outline their plans.

may lead. One useful induction, however, emerges, which is that the problem of the causation of human cancer is not to be solved by experiments on lower animals in laboratories.

There is one other aspect of this case, the commercial one. The Medical Press, June 8, 1932, puts it thus: The elusive nature of this disease "has converted the research study of its problem into an industry from which many gain a livelihood. If the cause of the disease and its cure were known at this day, much disturbance of vested interests would follow." Is it not a pity that the press so constantly directs our minds towards disease in all its aspects?

BARSBY IS MADE SCHOOL TRUSTEE

Nanaimo's Mayor to Fill Vacancy Caused By Resignation of Ald. Bennett

Nanaimo, June 1.—Mayor Barsby was appointed to the school board yesterday evening to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alderman Bennett.

Chairman Shaw stated he had consulted the school supervisors regarding the reduction of two teachers on the school staff and they had agreed it was possible. The ratepayers' meeting held recently favored a reduction in the staff. The teachers were congratulated for the splendid entries of the school children in the Empire Day parade and the Rotarians were thanked for donations.

MAN SLAYS TWO AND SELF

Domestic Unhappiness Ends in Tragedy in Hamilton, Ontario

Hamilton, June 1.—Running amok with a repeating shotgun, Frederick Gowdy, twenty-eight, to-day murdered his father-in-law and brother-in-law and then committed suicide with the same weapon as police closed in to arrest him.

Gowdy had been separated from his wife following an assault on her some months ago, and Mrs. Gowdy was living with her father. An application for a divorce brought by Gowdy was scheduled to be heard in court to-day. The father-in-law, William Butcher, met instant death when Gowdy fired. Bertram Butcher, the brother-in-law, who pursued the slayer, was fatally wounded. He died in a hospital several hours later.

Between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning Gowdy left the boathouse where he had been living, armed with a repeating shotgun. He made his way to the house where his wife was staying with her father.

Breaking in through a basement window, he crept upstairs to what he believed was his wife's room, only to discover her father had changed rooms with her.

Gowdy's entry awoke Mr. Butcher and the intruder retreated to the bathroom, where the older man evidently expostulated with him. Gowdy suddenly raised the gun and fired. The body of Butcher fell down the stairs to the floor below. Death was instantaneous.

PURSUIT ENDED BY SHOT
Mr. Butcher's son, roused by the detonation, rushed out of his room and pursued Gowdy, who fled toward the kitchen. When the slayer reached the back door, he was unable to open it, and wheeling around, he fired at young Butcher, who fell, fatally wounded. Gowdy then escaped from the house.

Police were summoned and removed young Butcher to a hospital. A thrilling man-hunt took place at dawn when police sought Gowdy. Police spread a wide net over the city, but the pursuit lasted only a few minutes. Police surrounded a dump on the bay shore. A shot was heard, and then another. The body of Gowdy, the shotgun beside it, was found in the dump.

Some months ago Gowdy was charged with assaulting his wife and the case was heard in county criminal court. Suspended sentence was allowed, the judge commenting Gowdy seemed to be a "much-wronged man."

Since that time the young man had started an action for divorce and had seemed deeply distressed at the prospect of separation from his wife and small child.

TRACE $75,000 AT INQUIRY

Associated Press
New York, June 1.—By showing more than $5,000 was drawn from Russell T. Sherwood's bank accounts for the benefit of an unnamed friend of Mayor James J. Walker, Samuel Seabury yesterday sought to link Mr. Walker beyond dispute with the $1,000,000 financial transactions of the $3,500-a-year accountant.

The counsel of the Hotelstadter legislative committee made only one reference to the identity of the mysterious person, whom he declined to name. "If anybody knew that person," he told the inquiry board, "he would know the money was drawn on Mayor Walker's authority and not on Sherwood's."

When the mayor had his day in court he testified he had authorized a payment to this individual from a joint brokerage account he had with P. S. Block, publisher, but denied he had either an interest in or a knowledge of Sherwood's bank and brokerage accounts.

NEW MOVE TO LIMIT APPEALS

By George Hamilton, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Dublin, June 11.—The government of the Irish Free State is drafting a bill to wipe out appeals to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in London, the highest tribunal in the empire.

The government, it is understood, hopes to submit the bill to the Dail before the summer adjournment of July 8. It is an adjunct to the proposals to withhold payment of the land annuities to Great Britain, and to abolish the Parliamentary oath of allegiance to the Crown.

The right of appeal to the Privy Council is already in effect virtually inoperative in the Free State. In several measures passed by the Free State Parliament during the Cosgrave administration decisions of the Privy Council were nullified. But these measures applied to particular cases, not being general.

The proposed bill attacks the general right of appeal.

An English statistician has figured out that it requires twenty-four sheep to provide enough gut to string one regulation lawn tennis racquet.

"PETER PAN" SENDS A GIFT

Wellington, N.Z., June 1.—Ten-year-old Gwen Lewis, who lives at the tiny seaside resort of Paraparaumu near here, has a gift from "Peter Pan."
A visitor from Wellington saw a little house Gwen had built and surrounded with a garden. On a signpost in front were the words: "Peter Pan's House." The visitor photographed the house with the bullet hole in it and sent the picture to Sir James Barrie. Gwen received a letter from the author, telling of an adventure of Peter Pan, "while flying about the world," when he spent the night in Gwen's house. Enclosed was a thimble in payment for the lodging.

ALPINISTS OPEN MOUNTAIN HUT

Swiss Chalet Quarters at Seven Hills Lake Now Completed

Fifty Members Will Spend Three Days in Sooke Mountain Park

To take part in the ceremonies attending the opening of the Hut at the lake of the Seven Hills in the Sooke district, fifty members of the Victoria branch of the Alpine Club will leave Victoria on Friday morning for a three-day outing.

The erection of this building on the club property has occupied the attention of the members for the last three years. The progress has been slow owing to transportation difficulties and lack of finances, but notwithstanding all drawbacks, the Hut is now ready for occupation.

The ceremonies will start at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, for by that time all hikers will have traversed the five-mile tramp to camp. Luncheon will be the first item on the programme. This will be followed by speeches from prominent members of the club, including W. H. Dougan, vice-president of the Victoria branch of the Alpine Club; C. L. Harrison, chairman of The Hut and property committee; Gordon Cameron, treasurer; G. M. Shaw, secretary; and R. D. McCaw, chairman of the reception committee. Interpersing the speeches will be community singing, when the club songs will be in evidence.

In the evening there will be the usual camp fire which is held on the island in the Lake of the Seven Hills and joined to the mainland by a rustic bridge.

The architecture of the Hut is of the Swiss chalet type. It has been constructed of logs cut on the property, and is composed of one large room downstairs, twenty by thirty feet, and has a finished floor, while the walls are of upright cedar logs. The kitchen and store room join the main room, the floors of which are of hewn logs. In the kitchen a big range has been built, and is so commodious that food for fifty guests can be prepared with ease on it.

A feature of the main room is the entrance door which is of special construction, and has a striking design on it of wrought iron, the handiwork of the art blacksmith of Sooke, Shields. The windows are large and have shutters that raise up and are equipped with hinges made by the same artist in metal.

There is a big veranda, the floor of which is of hewn logs, that cannot be injured by the hobbled boots of the members, but a certain ritual will be observed in entering the main room, for like the Mohammedans, footwear will be removed before entering the "temple."

Over the main room and leading to it by a stairway of hewn logs is one large room, thirty by eighteen, to be used for sleeping in bad weather. The walls of this room are lined, and the roof of the building is constructed to withstand the worst of snow in the Sooke hills.

The fireplace in the main room downstairs has been built of stone. Two long tables in this room are capable of seating sixty members.

WOMEN TOLD OF WAR DEBTS

Prof. F. H. Soward Speaking at Women's Canadian Club Meeting

Has Hopes Relief Will Be Found Through Lausanne Conference

"Reparations and War Debts" formed the subject of an address given by Professor F. H. Soward of the University of B.C. yesterday afternoon to a large and attentive audience of members of the Women's Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel.

For the last fourteen years reparations and war debts had been the skeleton at the feast of Europe, said the speaker. But it was hoped the present economic ills—that tried men's souls—would be solved by the deliberations of the delegates to the conference at Lausanne when it was anticipated they would arrive at some workable compromise.

Paying war debts is paying for unproductive services, for shells, for ammunition, uniforms, etc., things that were blown away fourteen years ago and the attitude of nations towards such debts was akin to the attitude of the individual who received little satisfaction in settling accounts of long standing.

Three problems would be of major importance at the Lausanne conference, he said: first, the Far Eastern question, which for the time being had passed the most dangerous moment with the silencing of the guns at Shanghai and suspended hostilities in Manchuria; second, disarmament and third, reparations.

At the conclusion of this conference it was hoped that the present national haggling would be changed to international co-operation.

Nations to-day were bound together economically and it was impossible for them to pursue an individual and narrow policy of economic nationalism if world conditions were to recover. They must grow rich together by co-operative action or they would be unavoidably poor together, he said.

FORLORN MORATORIUM
The speaker thought that Lausanne would at least result in a "forlorn moratorium on reparations," although cancellation would be probable. If this moratorium were coupled with an agreement to reduce the burden of armaments, it would be difficult for the United States Congress in December to insist upon payment of war debts.

"It offers," said Professor Soward, "a chance for United States generosity and statesmanship parallel to that shown by Lincoln in his 'malice toward none, charity toward all' speech of 1863."

In dealing with the origin and history of war debts and reparations, Professor Soward pointed out the $10-200,000,000 loaned to the Allies by the United States in 1917 had been spent in the United States for cotton and shells. In fact all was spent on war material. For only two and a half months were the soldiers of the United States in the firing line so when it came to summing up the losses sustained by the Allies it was considered the U.S. dollar had taken the place of men and that the great sacrifices paid by France, Great Britain, Belgium and other allies in men should be equivalent for the loan of money.

In the endeavors to clear up the many difficulties arising on the subject of war debts experts had been engaged to make reports and the publication of such had often caused clash of opinion between governments.

The whole process of payment hinged on Germany's reparations payments, and it appeared impossible to force that country to pay.

The audience was reminded that Great Britain made the first offer to cancel war debts and the offer was spurned but the solution to the problem might yet be the cancellation of such debts.

At the conclusion of his address, Mrs. W. G. Wilson, the president of the Canadian Club, on behalf of the members, extended to Professor Soward a hearty vote of thanks.

The musical part of the programme was rendered by Mrs. Harry Morden, whose piano solo, "Crane Song" and "Invitation to the Dance," were artistically rendered.

MOTHERS, GIRLS HOLD BANQUET

Appropriate Addresses Given at Douglas Baptists' Function

The Canadian girls in training of the Douglas Street Baptist Church held their first mother and daughter banquet of Friday, May 27, in attendance. The tables which had been beautifully decorated by the girls were presided over by Miss Mildred Beal, leader, and Miss Margaret McKinnon, president.

Following the supper a sing-song was enjoyed after which the president extended a welcome to the mothers. This was responded to by Mrs. V. D. Atchison, who spoke of the privileges and responsibilities of motherhood. After the introduction of guests Miss Lillian Parfitt, sponsor of the Girls' Council for Vancouver Island, gave a very comprehensive address on the theme "The Dream Realized," touching on the organization and history of C.G.I.T. work in Canada. Miss Beata Trace then spoke on "The Place of the Church in the Life of the Teenage Girl." An address by Rev. F. W. McKinnon followed, his theme being "Our Task," setting forth the opportunities and obligations of service.

Mrs. W. P. Freeman, Baptist representative of girls' work for the province, then gave an inspiring address on "The Vision Splendid." She emphasized the necessity of holding high ideals and the building of these dreams into realities.

"My Task" was then sung by Miss Jean Atchison and the evening brought to a close by an impressive candle-lighting ceremony conducted by the girls.

Mrs. Russell Ward, Hilton Beach, Ontario, writes: "This is my secret for keeping my family of six well. For all my children I have used Baby's Own Tablets, and I can't praise them too much. If my baby is fretful, I give her a Baby's Own Tablet, and in a short time she is happy. If there is sign of a cold, I give the tablets, and she is soon all better. If she is constipated, I give the tablets and a wonderful regulator. The tablets are fine during teething. I wouldn't think of being without a box in the house."

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATED YOUNG PUPILS GIVE RECITAL

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harry Glover of Union Bay, who have been visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Williams, 2331 Windsor Road, Oak Bay, for the last week, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on May 28. A family dinner party was held on the occasion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Glover, 1479 Fort Street, covers being laid for twenty guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Glover were married in Stonebridge, England. On their silver anniversary they were the recipients of many gifts, among which were silver tea service, a gift of their family, a silver basket filled with yellow iris, which had been used as the centre-piece at the dinner party and which was the gift of their first grandson; flowers, a handsomely decorated cake and many messages of congratulations.

Miss D. E. Moore, L.A.R., held a recital on Saturday evening in the New Thought Hall. A very large number of parents and friends enjoyed the various numbers by the children of the Model School, Girls' and Boys' Central Schools and her own piano-forte class.

All the children joined in the opening song "O Canada," with band accompaniment by forty pupils.

A programme of duets and piano-forte numbers showed careful training, good technique and real musical appreciation. Several folk dances were also given; also rhythmic band numbers were performed by the various schools mentioned previously, and a telephone solo played by Hazel Hawkins brought forth great applause. The annual prize of three months' free tuition and a medal for the pupil gaining the highest number of marks during the year went to Margaret Humphreys. During the evening Miss Moore was presented with a beautiful bouquet of iris and a flowering plant. Those playing solos and duets were: Mollie Sheppard, Lindley Roach, Hazel Smith, Jimmie and Elsie Eddle, Margaret and Mary Humphreys, Ruth and Jack Gardiner, Frances Knight, Joy Grover, Betty McAddie, Joan Cull, Helen Todd, Mona Allan, Phyllis Harwood, Vincent Townsend, Hazel Hawkins and Dorothy Payne.

Mrs. R. F. Reynolds to Lead Langford Cubs

Langford, June 1.—Mrs. R. F. Reynolds of Langford Lake has undertaken to act as cub mistress for the about-to-be-formed Wolf Cub pack, which will be run in conjunction with the local Boy Scout troop, which is under the direction of the Langford P. T. A. scout troop committee.

Boys between eight and eleven years who wish to become cubs must present themselves to Mrs. Reynolds with a letter containing their parents' consent.

Charles Haggie and William Michelin were enrolled scouts on Saturday afternoon, successfully passing their tenderfoot tests. Instruction in tracking was given. It is hoped that the whole troop will be in uniform in time for the big scout rally which starts on Friday, June 3. All scouts are requested to meet at Marshwood at 6.30 o'clock on Thursday evening, June 2.

The girls' branch of the Women's Auxiliary held a silver tea on Saturday afternoon at Langford Lake through the courtesy of Miss Monticelli.

Miss Turner gave a most interesting account of her visit in Honolulu. "Miss O. Ings of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service on Friday evening examined the girls belonging to the W.A.A. on the home nursing course, which was just completed. The following members passed the tests satisfactorily: Adeline Smith, Betty Smedley, Stella Hinkes, Margaret Smedley, Jean Clarke, Adele Yates and Eileen Hinkes.

Vital Resolutions Are Discussed By Women

Suggestions Offered By Canadian Daughters For Solution of Economic Crisis

Ninth Annual Session of Grand Council Continues and Will Conclude To-morrow

Discussion of resolutions on matters of public importance proceeded at the sitting of the Grand Council of the Canadian Daughters' League, which commenced its ninth annual session in the Shrine Auditorium yesterday morning. Delegates from across Canada are attending with Grand President Mrs. T. J. O'Neill as chairwoman. Among recommendations contained in resolutions submitted were:

As the government conscripts men in time of war to fight for their country, it should in this national emergency be petitioned to conscript the private wealth of Canada and put men and women to work instead of allowing the youth of the country to be ruined. Since the earning power of men and women had been reduced, the government should be petitioned to reduce the interest on money.

The government should be asked to create a moratorium on taxes and mortgages to prevent people losing their homes.

A sincere step should be taken toward the attainment of peace and goodwill. Military training in schools should be abolished.

The government should be petitioned regarding the establishment of a national bank of Canada to eliminate the waste of huge sums of money by the government in the way of interest paid the banks.

The government should be urged to establish health clinics for the sterilization of the feeble-minded.

Since hospitals are going bankrupt through the inability of patients to pay for treatment received, and since many citizens are going without medical attention to the detriment of the health of the nation, the government should be petitioned to hasten the adoption of state health insurance.

NATIONAL CONTROL

The last resolution read: "As we believe that society should regard enforced unemployment as intolerable, with slum conditions threatening war and revolution, and that the present system has been under trial sufficiently to lend itself to false criticism and the present condition of over-production, under-consumption, unemployment and uncertainties is its own condemnation, we are therefore convinced that the public utilities of Canada, including all means of transportation and communication, should be operated with a view to service for all the people rather than profits for private companies or individuals."

We declare ourselves in favor of nationalization of these utilities wherever possible, and that legislation be enacted to eliminate watered stocks, promotion or merger stocks and abnormal profits.

Believing that the resources of Canada should be developed and operated for the benefit of all the people, we therefore declare ourselves in favor of the nationalization of all natural resources.

In the meantime we ask the government to adopt such measures as unemployment insurance along with a programme looking forward to social ownership and control of the means of production, distribution and exchange. We believe the government should grapple with this problem at once, as it is now a national emergency.

Several committee reports were also presented. Mrs. M. Ross, grand convenor of printing, read the report of the printing committee; Mrs. Rose M. Perkins, the report of the magazine committee; Mrs. Edith R. V. Todd, the report of the educational loan fund committee; and Mrs. L. B. Stewart, the report of the legislation and laws committee.

A large incinerator has been built to consume all camp refuse.

This camp is situated in the property of the club, which consists of 180 acres, lying south of the Sooke Mountain Park, which in extent is roughly 1,400 acres, a tract of virgin forest. The camp has an elevation of 1,450 feet, and is reached by a trail leading off the Sooke River Road, about three miles above Milne's Landing. The location is on the skyline on the Sooke hills, is visible from the corners of Yates and Government Streets and Fort and Government Streets.

The work of construction of The Hut has been in the hands of Hugh Campbell and Harry Vogel, both of Sooke. Among those who will leave on Friday morning to celebrate the opening of The Hut will be: Miss Bass, Miss J. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cameron, K. M. Chadwick, Rev. F. C. Chapman, Miss Angela Davis, H. Davis, C. Dickson, Capt. and Miss Everall, Capt. and Mrs. C. M. C. Fleming, T. Goodlake, Miss Hadley, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Harrison, Mrs. B. Haddock, Miss Haddock, A. Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

UNDERNOURISHMENT MARKS
EXCLUSIVELY MILK-FED CHILD IS UNDESIRABLE to dictate any particular amounts of foods for fear mothers will take such suggestions too seriously and make futile efforts to force their quantities upon the child. But the advice not to exceed maximum amounts of foods should be taken very seriously. It has been discovered over and over again that too much milk spoils the child's appetite for solid foods.

This emphasis and its necessity for enforcement is brought home forcibly in the following letter. Here is a child whose whole diet is made up of milk with strikingly poor results. Mrs. R. H. writes:

LITTLE APPETITE
"My baby girl is sixteen months old and weighs twenty-three pounds and weighed almost eight pounds at birth. Is she underweight—and how much? She takes three pints of milk daily, but will not eat a thing except a little tomato juice and a few bites of carrot. She will not take eggs any more."

"I would like to know if there is such a disease as having which babies can suffer? My baby has had a cold almost all of her life. A friend said she had hay fever."

"I have had to her baby specialists and all they give her are nose drops which do not seem to help. What would you advise? She wakes up once at night but goes right back to sleep after her bottle. She has twelve teeth. How many should she have? She has been walking ever since she was eleven months old, but is slightly bow-legged. I have not given her cod liver oil this winter, but did last. Please tell me how to get her to eat well and how to make her cold well."

REDUCE MILK

The first step for you to take is to reduce the amount of milk to not one drop more than one quart daily, and probably not that unless this reduction spurs the appetite. Your baby should now weigh about twenty-five or more pounds. She has better than the average number of teeth, but the bow-legs are an obvious indication of rickets, which will probably be corrected this summer if you improve the diet.

The habits of the baby are those typical of a young child. The use of bottles, which probably increase the child's desire for milk, is deplorable at an age when the average child is weaned and the use of cups. The night feedings should have been ended months ago. The distressingly inadequate diet is making rickets and undernourishment possible. You may have leaflets on "Feeding From Twelve to Eighteen Months," "Weaning—A Child From Bottle to Cup" and "Rickets." If you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request to the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

As for the cold, it is possible, of course, for a child to be sensitive to some food, usually milk or eggs, and thus suffer from a chronic disturbance of the mucous membranes of the nose. But there are other reasons for a cold suffered from infancy, and I should ask for some pediatricist who will take the time to discover the root cause and not just treat it locally with drops.

If you will cut down on the milk, substitute cups for bottles, you will give the child all the necessary encouragement to eat properly. Ask the doctor for some iron medication as it is more than possible the child is suffering from anemia due to the prolonged milk diet. Anemia always affects the appetite; so until you end that, it will be difficult to get the child to eat enough food to cure the condition through the diet.

NEW PRESIDENT SCHUBERT CHOIR

Miss Stella Buriton Elected at Annual Meeting; Presentation to Frederick King

Miss Stella Buriton has been elected president of the Schubert Club choir, of which Frederick King is conductor. Other officers elected at the annual meeting were: Mrs. Florence Mutrie, vice-president; Mrs. J. O. Welch, secretary; Mrs. T. Hammond, treasurer; Miss Sylvia Kelly, librarian, and Mrs. P. C. Richards, convener of the publicity committee.

The meeting was the last of the 1931-32 musical season. There will be no other meetings until next fall when the choir will prepare for a new season. An invitation from Mrs. Hammond's to visit her summer home at Shawnigan Lake on June 15, was accepted. During the evening, the retiring president, Mrs. E. Sheppard, on behalf of the members, presented Mr. King with a leather music case as a token of appreciation for his able leadership during the last season. Mrs. King was presented with a plant. A programme of music was enjoyed. Miss Grace A. Allen giving two pianoforte solos and Miss Gladys Marchant and Mrs. L. Baines rendering vocal solos. Several impersonations given by Mrs. Locke were amusing. Refreshments were served by members of the choir.

SUGGESTIONS FOR YOUR JUNE PICNIC BASKETS

Salads, sandwiches and little cakes are always acceptable in the picnic basket or hamper, so perhaps a few suggestions and recipes may help you in packing your next picnic luncheon.

Potato salad is a stand-by for picnics and it is very satisfactory, but frequently potato chips are liked and then the salad must be something else that is easy to pack and easy to serve.

STUFFED TOMATO SALAD

Four medium-sized tomatoes, four hard cooked eggs, four tablespoons diced celery, four tablespoons chopped boiled ham (optional), boiled salad dressing.

Scald and chill tomatoes. Peel and scoop out the seeds. Sprinkle the inside with salt and pepper and turn upside down to drain. Hard cook eggs and chop coarsely. Add celery and ham and enough salad dressing to make quite moist. Fill tomatoes with mixture and put each tomato into a small baking cup. Chill until ready to pack.

A boiled dressing is chosen in place of mayonnaise because the boiled dressing "stands up" better while mayonnaise tends to separate if treated too roughly.

Sandwiches of chopped olives and pimentones are good to serve with this salad. Cream cheese combined with finely chopped nuts and lettuce sandwiches might complete the assortment.

Individual cakes, such as cup cakes and cookies are usually easier to handle at a picnic than one large cake.

CHOCOLATE CUP CAKES

Chocolate cup cakes are sure to be popular. The following rule will make ten or twelve cakes, depending on the size of the cups.

One cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons butter, ½ cup sugar, 1 egg, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 5 tablespoons milk, 1 square bitter chocolate.

Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Sift three times. Cream butter well and gradually add sugar, beating until the mixture is light. Melt chocolate over hot water and beat into butter mixture. Beat egg until light with milk and vanilla and add alternately with dry ingredients to first mixture, adding dry ingredients first. Stir to keep smooth. Pour into oiled and floured muffin pans or baking cups and bake fifteen minutes in a moderate oven. Cover with boiled icing.

"The Plains of Abraham"

BY JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD
(Copyright by Doubleday Doran Co., Inc.)

Later, after the feast on the green, came Tontieu's spectacular feat of the day, a military review of his tenants, with wives and children witnessing the martial display. The male guests, who had drilled in their own seigneurie, joined Tontieu's men. Only Henry Bulain and Jeems were not among them. Henri, sensitive to the fact, and to save Catherine from the hurt which might arise because of it, had started with her over the homeward trail half an hour before. Jeems had remained. This was his answer to Tontieu's contempt—that he was not of her people, that his world was not circumscribed by the petty boundaries of the seigneurie. He stood with his long rifle in the crook of his arm, conscious that she was looking at him, and the invisible shafts from her eyes, poisoned by their disdain, stirred him with the thrill of a painful triumph. He could almost hear her calling him an English beast again. A coward. One to be distrusted and watched. He did not sense humiliation or regret, but only a final widening of what had always lain between them.

He bore this feeling home with him. It grew as time went on, and with its growth an increasing restlessness came over him. News creeping through the wilderness and reaching every corner, like the whispering winds, kept an unquenchable heat under the ash of his fires, fanning the embers into flame in spite of him. Secrets were no longer secrets. Rumors had grown into facts. Peas had become realities. England and France were still playing at peace in their mighty courts. In the sunlight they were friends, in the dark they were seeking each other's lives like common cat and mouse.

And the thirteen little colonial governments of the English, quarreling like small boys among themselves, just beginning to walk alone, feeling the significance of the new word American, cheated by their parent, laughed at by their parent, hated by their parent, still yearned for the love of that parent as children have wanted love from the beginning of time, and were loyal to it. So tragedy began to move, to build out of death, out of betrayed confidence, out of dishonor and fraud and pitiless murder the American and Canadian nations of the future.

Eighty thousand French and more than a million English in the New World were ready for the sacrifice. Massachusetts enlisted one man out of eight of her population, New England, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, New York and the others followed her example.

Children, loyal, proud to fight—and hating the French, the English, the Wolfe, to call them "worthless trash." And New France, a glory of sun and land even now gutted of her prosperity by corruptions brought from Louis and La Pampadour, sent out her own sons to fight and kill, valiant, glad, confident—and hating the English implacably!

With them, on both sides, went Indians from almost a hundred tribes—red men who had once found honor in fighting, but who, now skulking and murdering, found their souls in paws to the great White Fathers across the sea who had prostituted them with whisky, bought them with guns, maddened them with hatred, and who paid them for human hair.

Of these things Jeems was thinking as winter drew into spring and spring into summer. Only love held him from leaping to the temptations which were drawing closer about him, love for his mother whose happiness marked the beginning and the end of all action on the part of his men. And in this hour, when three out of four of the fighting men along the Richelieu were preparing to join Dieksau, when half of his acquaintances at the Tontieu seigneurie which already gazed to fight Braddock, when the forests trembled at the stealthy tread of painted savages, and when the Frenchman who did not rise to his country's call was no longer a Frenchman, Jeems observed that the strain upon his father was more difficult to bear than his own. For Henri, in spite of his worship of Catherine, was of New France to the bottom of his soul, and now that other men were making a bulwark of their bodies against her enemies, his own desire to make the same sacrifice was almost beyond the power of his strong will to control. In their years of comradeship, Jeems and his father had never come so near to each other as in these weeks of tension.

Almost as painful to them as the making of a wound was the day when Dieksau cannyly sent Richelieu with a host of three thousand five hundred men and made forever a hallowed ground of the Tontieu seigneurie by camping there overnight.

When she knew they were coming, Catherine had said to him, "If your hearts tell you it is right, go with them!"

But they remained. For Henri it was a struggle greater than Dieksau fought, greater than that in which Braddock died. For Jeems it was less a torment and more the mysterious madness of youth to tramp to the clash of arms. For Catherine it was the gehenna of her life, a siege of darkness and uncertainty in her soul which gave way suddenly before news which swept like a whirlwind over the land.

God had been with New France! Braddock and his English invaders were destroyed!

No triumph of French arms in the New World had been so complete, and Dieksau, the great German baron who was fighting for France, moved southward to crush Sir William Johnson and his Colonial and Indians, planning not to stop until he had driven them to the doors of Albany.

With him were six hundred and eighty-four of the loyal men who were beginning to call themselves Canadians. Tontieu had over to bring the news to Henri Bulain, and to Catherine he recalled his prediction that the English would never get into this paradise of theirs. Now the whole thing was settled for many years to come, for Dieksau would sweep their last enemy from the Champlain country as completely as a new broom swept her home. He had sent almost every man he had to the scene of fighting, and only his wooden leg had kept him from joining Dieksau.

Even Tontieu had wanted to go! This recalled an important matter to his mind, Tontieu had entrusted him with a letter to Jeems. Boiling over with his own selfish exultations, he had forgotten it. He hoped it was an invitation for Jeems to come to his seigneurie. He had often told his girl she should be more friendly with the lad.

Jeems took the letter and went off by himself. It was the first recognition of the scene of fighting, and he had tried not to think of her. Alone, he read the words she had written him.

With pitiless coldness and brevity they called him a renegade and a coward.

On a September morning some days later, Jeems stood watching his uncle as he disappeared into the frost-lit woods of Forbidden Valley. It seemed to him that Hepsibah's suspicions and guardianship of the valley had become greater with the growing news of French triumph in the south, which so positively assured their safety.

Only yesterday Tontieu had brought the latest word from Dieksau. The Germans had been on the eve of annihilating Sir William Johnson and his mob of Colonial and Indians when his messenger had left. By this time the event had probably happened. Jeems thought. Yet his uncle was going into Forbidden Valley with a look in his face which puzzled him.

Restlessness possessed him. Odd after Hepsibah had gone. Passing years were beginning to leave their mark on the dog. He was growing content to watch life with Jeems instead of ceaselessly pursuing it. He was not old, and yet he was no longer young. There remained one thing which did not fail to stir in him the tense ferocity of his youth. This was the Indian smell. He always told Jeems when one of their wilderness visitors was near, sometimes many minutes before the savage appeared from the woods. And he never tired of watching Forbidden Valley. In the dawn

ECONOMY LEAGUE MEETS AT DUNCAN

Special to The Times
Duncan, June 1.—About fifty people attended the Taxpayers' Economy League meeting in the I.O.O.F. Hall Monday evening with John Gibb in the chair.

E. W. Neil, secretary, outlined the objects of the league, which are mainly to impress upon all public administrative bodies the necessity of maintaining law and order; the necessity of confining themselves to the proper functions of administration; the necessity of distributing the burden of taxation over all classes in an equitable manner; rigid economy and businesslike methods in the expenditure of public funds; to direct the attention of the public to an understanding of the excessive weight of taxation upon the industry and the resulting effect upon the national welfare; and to take all lawful measures which may be conducive to the attainment of these objects. Mr. Neil spoke strongly on the subject of taxation, and the urgent necessity for economy in the spending of public monies. A great danger at present, he said, is the low price of commodities, while taxes continue the same, high taxes when commodity prices are low, means lower wages and unemployment. If taxes are not brought down, he continued, and too international trade given a chance to revive, there must be a crash. The question of collecting taxes depends on two things, the ability of the public to pay, and their willingness to do so, he said.

The league is holding meetings at Someness schoolhouse, Westholme Hall, Dieksau, Shawinigan Lake, and Vimy Hall, and another general meeting in Duncan on June 22.

he faced it. At mid-day he dozed with his half-closed eyes turned toward it. From above the orchard, standing on a little plateau that overlooked the Bulain farm, they called to Henri, who was in his turn field, and waved at him. Jeems stood for a few moments with his arm about his mother. Then he kissed her, and Catherine watched him until he was lost to her sight in the Big River.

Jeems did not have the desire to hunt, nor did Odd. Unexplainable impulses were pulling at them both. Odd's restlessness was unlike his usual. They came to Lussan's, nine miles from their home. Since Lussan's departure, the place had been abandoned, and in those five years the wilderness had largely reclaimed what man had taken from it. Jeems stood where he had fought Paul Tache, and ghostly whispers crept about him in the stillness. Their voices were a jelling of dread, almost of fear. He turned back to the house and to the open, where long ago he had stood with Tontieu and all her loveliness so near to him.

The sun had set, and dusk was gathering over the land before he drew himself away from the ghosts which haunted Lussan's place. Night could add nothing more to his gloom. Jeems did not hurry. He unslung his bow, which was the only weapon he had brought, and carried it ready in his hand. Yet if Odd had blinied or danger he would have paid no attention to the warning. Danger was miles away, on the other side of Dieksau and his men. It would come no nearer, and he would never have a chance to meet it. In Tontieu's eyes he would always remain a renegade and a coward.

Studio Extras Have Caste System

By ROBERT GRANDON

Still loafing about the studios, watching them hither and yon, wondering just what the screen will be about when all the scenes have been shot . . . you never can tell.

Can't help but wonder . . . in an idle sort of way . . . at the caste system the extras insist upon . . . You expect it of a star, especially after they go high hat . . . but the humble extras have it, too, believe me.

First of all, in point of prestige, come the "stand-ins" . . . They are the ones who do exactly as their title suggests . . . stand in for the stars while the cameras are being focused, thus saving the temperamental Thespians the discomfort of light-heat and melting grease paint. "Doubles come in this class, too . . . they are the ones who take the place of the stars in dangerous scenes or long shots.

Next in order come the "socials" . . . They are the boys and girls who have a natty wardrobe and know how to wear it . . . College-folk, many of them, or stage people who have not yet clicked. They furnish the atmosphere and must know their Emily Post to a nicety.

And then there are the "types" . . . Among these are the whicker raiser . . . individuals with a hirsute complexion and able to grow trick beards on short notice . . . Or else gifted with an exceptional crop of aila, to be cherished until the next call to the studio.

Finally, there are the extras . . . the milling mob, hanging about the casting director, filling their applications, waiting for a chance to do anything.

After all, there may be sense in ranking the stands-ins and doubles first . . . Estelle Taylor broke into the game for Dorothy Dalton in a stunt thriller and Joan Crawford doubled for Eleanor Boardman even after she had signed her first picture contract.

Would you like to try the Favorite Recipes of Famous Stars? If so, Robert Grandon will send you an illustrated leaflet containing these if you will send two cents in stamps, and a self-addressed stamped envelope. (Copyright, 1932, Publishers Syndicate)

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Carpet Tent

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Buster and Custer, two of Uncle Wiggily's rabbit boys, were hopping home from the Hollow Stump School. They seemed to be in a hurry.

"Hi, Buster!" barked Jackie Bow Wow, the puppy dog, as he ran to catch up to the rabbits, "come on, have a game of ball!"

"No, we can't," said Custer. "Why not?" asked Peetie Bow Wow, who was trying to chase a fly off his nose.

"We have to go home to do something," said Buster.

"Have you got to work?" Jackie wanted to know.

"Work?" cried Custer, sort of scornful-like and dissembling. "I should say not!"

"We're going to show my father how strong we are," said Buster, jumping up in the air and standing on his hind legs.

"Strong?" asked Jackie. "What do you mean?"

"We are going to beat all the dust out of a carpet," explained Custer. "My father saw Johnnie and Billie Bushytail beating the dust out of their mother's carpet and he said those squirrels were very strong. So Buster and I said we were stronger than the Bushytails and we are going home to prove it."

"Oh, you are!" chuckled Jackie, and he looked at Peetie and laughed out loud.

"Yes," said Buster, "we are going to strongly beat the carpet."

"Hi! Hi! Hi!" laughed Peetie. "Hi! Hi! Hi!" laughed Jackie. Then the two little puppy dogs ran off to play ball with the other animal boys and Buster and Custer hopped home to their burrow.

"I wonder why they laughed?" asked Buster as they came within sight of the carpet still hanging over the line. It was waiting for them.

"I don't know," answered Custer. "Maybe they were jealous because they strong we are," said Buster, jumping up in the air and standing on his hind legs.

"Strong?" asked Jackie. "What do you mean?"

III — OF AFRICA

Some of the world's most interesting stamps have been printed in Africa. Africa contains only three countries which may be called free and independent—Egypt, Ethiopia and Liberia—but the nations which own colonies elsewhere on the continent permit stamps to be issued.

Three stamps of Africa

The picture of King George appears on some of the stamps of British colonies.

The lion, the zebra and other animals are to be seen on African stamps. You might make up a small "zoo" in your album from such stamps.

Stamps of triangle shape have been issued with the "Cape of Good Hope" imprint.

Splendid stamps have been put out by Ecuador, the country shaped like a piece of pie. Two Ecuador stamps show men at work caring for crops of sugar and coffee. Another stamp has a picture of snow-capped mountain peaks to be seen in that country.

To-morrow—Stamps of far and wide.

Uncle Ray

THURSDAY, JUNE 2, 1932

Planetary influences to-day are changeable, according to astrology. It is a day better for selling than for buying.

Women are subject to the best signs, if they devote their attention to social and domestic interests.

This should be a fortunate wedding day, or it promises lasting love, even though occasional quarrels are indicated.

under this sign should be wary of men and women will be the fortunate ones. The contrary is foretold.

There may be some success in the direction of the stars. According to the especially careful during the year.

In a place pressing bitter quarrels persons belonging to organizations should be especially cautious. It is read as an unfavorable day for the stars seen to deprive profit. It is a warning that the year comes from modest beginnings. It is a warning that the year will be a lucky day for seeking employment. Girls should be especially fortunate in quest for work.

The summer advances much fame or notoriety for many men and women. Personalities will be much excited. There will be more blatancy than formerly.

The London Stock market is subject to a substantial influence of the stars. The Venus declare, and government bonds will be the most successful.

Verus stationary in Cancer is read as much promising to the residents of the British Isles whose birthdate it is have the autumn. It is a warning that the year will be a temptation to speculate, however, and the children born on this day probably will be practical, reserved, courageous and ambitious. Subjects of this sign are usually exceedingly independent.

General Philippe, famous soldier, was born on this day, 1818. Others who have celebrated as a birthday include John Randolph of Roanoke, 1773, statesman; John G. Saxe, 1816, English poet; and Thomas Hardy, 1840, famous English novelist.

pound currency, the British pound, the Canadian dollar and the United States dollar—in use in the West Indies.

"There is a disposition in all the islands to get as many United States dollars as possible at a low rate of exchange," he said. "From the tourist standpoint one might almost think the American currency was the currency of the colony. For instance, a Bermuda pound cannot but be used in the Bahamas, the Turks and Caicos Islands. It would probably lead to a greater similarity in the currencies as well as benefit trade."

Empire Currency Is Suggested

Canadian Press

Toronto, June 1.—Establishment of a common empire currency would lead to an increase in the empire's employment and trade, said Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney-General of Ontario, interviewed here yesterday evening regarding his recent trip to West India.

He found four out of five islanders as poor as possible at a low rate of exchange," he said. "From the tourist standpoint one might almost think the American currency was the currency of the colonies. The American dollar pound cannot well be used in the Bahamas or Jamaica. An empire currency would probably lead to a greater employment as well as a benefit trade."

Noon Meal Should Be Day's Heaviest for Young Children

One Fresh Green Vegetable Must Be Included Daily

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

In their analysis for luncheons for small children, Mary E. Sweeney and Charlotte Chatfield urge that the young child's heaviest meal be served at noon, especially if the noon meal can be followed by a rest period.
Children who have an early breakfast may need a luncheon in the middle of the morning or in the afternoon. Such a luncheon may consist usually of tomato juice with cod liver oil in the morning, and a glass of milk in the middle of the afternoon.
In planning a menu for the mid-day luncheon, the basis should be a main dish of protein character, which may be an egg souffle, scrambled eggs, a meat ball, or some similar protein food.
There should also be one fresh green leafy vegetable, which may be worked into a sandwich with whole wheat bread, one cooked vegetable, milk as a beverage, and fruit or some other dessert usually flavored with fruit.
All of the menus used contain various quantities of calcium and phosphorus, provided by the foods selected, and also about half of the daily requirement of iron. The growing child needs these mineral substances.

In order to cover the question of price and variety, the foods selected are reasonable and the menus varied by preparation of the food. To reduce the cost of the meal in which liver is used, beef liver in loaf or patties may be substituted for broiled calves' liver.
Meals including fresh spinach, when out of season, are fairly costly. Tomato juice may be substituted occasionally for orange juice. It approximates the nutritional value and palatability.
The juice from canned tomatoes sweetened with a little sugar and flavored with cinnamon and cloves is much enjoyed by children, and compares favorably with other fresh fruit and vegetable juices in food value.
The mother who is interested in feeding the small child properly can secure this bulletin from the Department of Agriculture or from the superintendent of documents, Washington, D.C., for 10 cents.
It provides a vast amount of information on the subject, and the use of this information will do much to help the child to grow healthfully and vigorously.

again one of the foremost qualities of her performance in “Wayward,” the Paramount picture showing at the Columbia Theatre to-day.
The fire and flash of “The Dance of Life”—the romantic fervor of “Stolen Heaven” and “Devil's Holiday” are all brought into a symphonic union of stirring dramatics for her characterization of the lovely and well-loved wife of Richard Arlen in this latest picture, co-starring Pauline Frederick.

GREAT CAST AT DOMINION

Lily Damita, Charles Ruggles and Roland Young Have Leading Roles

Entertainment values have certainly been weaned away from Broadway, their stronghold for years, by the omnivorous talking pictures, as witness “This Is the Night,” Paramount's extravagantly funny and musical show which is showing at the Dominion Theatre to-day.
Lily Damita, the leading lady of “This Is the Night,” only recently completed a successful run in the highly remunerative “Sons O' Guns,” Charlie Ruggles, who seems to have turned his full time to work in the theatre, was formerly one of the leading funny men at the Gaiety White Way playing in such amusements as “Battling Butler” and many others.
Roland Young, always a sure bet for comedy entertainment, wherever his name appeared in lights in connection with “Rollo's Wild Out,” “Beggars on Horseback” and other theatrical works of their kind, is the third member of the talented comedians in “This Is the Night.”

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

Rex Beach decided to write a different story. Something for the motion picture—with vitality, realism and romance. It had to be different—a punch-drama of which he could be proud.
The Radio Pictures' executives gave him carte blanche and plenty of time. So Rex Beach wrote about the strangest marriage he'd ever heard, and called it “White Shoulders.”
The picture is being shown at the Playhouse Theatre to-day with a cast composed of Mary Astor, Jack Holt, Ricardo Cortez, Kitty Kelly, Sidney Toler and others.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

The flair for vivacity and emotional spirit which Nancy Carroll first portrayed for the delectation of film fans of the nation in “Able's Irish Rose” is

Trial of the action of the Kapoor Lumber Company Limited against the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway Company closed at noon to-day, when the special jury retired to consider its verdict, after hearing a charge by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, which required 1 hour and 20 minutes for delivery.

Hon. R. L. Mallard, K.C., was principal counsel for the plaintiffs and E. C. Mayers, K.C., appeared for the railway, which is a unit of the Canadian National system.

His Lordship said that the disastrous fire, which caused a loss of over $200,000, occurred on August 19, 1930, and was alleged to have been caused by a fire on the railway right-of-way, near the sawmill. The basis of the action was negligence by the defendant and where that cause was set up the burden of proving the negligence was upon the plaintiff, by direct evidence or facts from which the court could draw inferences of such negligence.

After describing negligence as involving want of care as an essential feature, His Lordship said fire long ago placed on the property owner a grave responsibility. He became, as it were, a neighbor, practically an insurer. This becoming burdensome the Parliament of Canada had thought proper, in regard to railways, to enact that, when a fire was started by a railway locomotive, whether there was negligence or not, there was a liability to damages. If modern appliances were used by the railway no insurance was carried and where no negligence was proven.

Turning to the question of negligence, His Lordship quoted a previous decision which held that, if a railway did not keep its right-of-way cleared of combustible material, it had contravened the act.

"So you have to consider whether the railway had modern and efficient appliances causing or contributing to the fire," His Lordship said.

Touching upon the contention of the plaintiff that the fire originated upon the right-of-way of the railway, being caused by sparks from a locomotive, His Lordship said he would submit a written question to the jury regarding the point.

He recalled the plaintiff claimed that, in any event, fire causing damage started on the defendant's right-of-way, that the defendant had knowledge of the fire and thereby became negligent. Failure to remove combustible material was a contributory negligence. The point as to whether the fire really started on the right-of-way was important, and was the subject of conflicting testimony.

MUST COMBAT FIRE

Touching upon the duty of the plaintiff when the fire was discovered, His Lordship said: "It was their duty not to stand idly by and see their property burn down. They were also the question of locomotive sparks among the lumber piles that has not been clearly followed out in the evidence."

He asked the jury to answer a series of prepared questions from the bench, dealing with the liability of the railway, but pointed out that, if they preferred, a general verdict was acceptable. There should also be a finding of the damages, if the verdict favored the plaintiff. This matter would be difficult, the fire having destroyed the basis of assessment. An effort to be fair and reasonable, to do its best under the circumstances, as all that could be expected of the jury.

Mr. Mayers asked the jury to be specially instructed upon a number of points; notably that the condition of the railway right-of-way was governed by compliance with an order of the railway commission. His Lordship commented in this regard that no order of the board could override explicit provisions of the statutes of Canada.

The jurors asked when retiring at noon, whether they were required to bring in an unanimous verdict upon all the points of a list of nineteen stated questions. They were told that if they had not reached unanimity after three hours of discussion they could return for further instructions.

His Lordship said that the importance is apparent of a most important counsel on both sides; there could have been no speedier presentation of the evidence, which has been well arranged. Counsel are well entitled to compliments from the bench," Mr. Justice Macdonald stated.

CANADIANS GET BACK INTO U.S.

Half-dozen Held at Blaine Have Cases Satisfactorily Adjusted

Vancouver, June 1.—Half a dozen Canadians who are now residents of the United States, found themselves in difficulties on Monday when they attempted to return across the line after spending Memorial Day holiday in Vancouver. They were eventually permitted to return to the states.

The legality of their original entry into the United States was questioned and they were held up at Blaine by American immigration officers until satisfactory proof of their right to enter the States was submitted.

Every case is dealt with individually by the United States officials at Vancouver, and all cases at Blaine were settled by wire and those detained were permitted to return.

"They all came under the new ruling regarding quota-exempt immigrants to United States between June 3, 1921, and June 30, 1924, who had hitherto been regarded as legal residents in the United States," declared William M. Sherer, U.S. immigration inspector, stationed in Vancouver.

The matter has arisen through different interpretations given to the quota law. Many Canadians years ago crossed into the United States to visit, and remained. Many paid the head tax afterwards.

Archie Aitken, 1022 Linden Avenue, has made Victoria his home for the last forty years. He has always taken an active interest in the affairs of the city, having served for years as school trustee, police commissioner and alderman. OTTAWA GIVES BRITAIN HOPE

Norman A. Yarrow Says British Look For Results From Economic Conference

Air Routes Out of London Only Transport Lines Showing Increased Business

"The people of Great Britain are looking with some hope to the coming conference at Ottawa," declared Norman A. Yarrow, managing director of Yarrow Ltd., following his return to Victoria yesterday afternoon from London.

"They are extraordinarily cheerful over there in spite of the economic disturbance. They are facing the future with courage, paying their taxes with the minimum of grumbling and are struggling through this difficult period with a determination that is characteristic of the British race," Mr. Yarrow said.

"The way in which Great Britain is weathering the storm is drawing the admiration of the world. Conditions over there, especially in the heavy trades, are not rosy at the present time, but things are no worse than they are on this side of the Atlantic."

FEELING OF CONFIDENCE

"There is a feeling of confidence in the outcome of the Imperial Conference which meets in Ottawa next month. After all this is an empire conference and the problems of the empire nations are similar, and therefore should be more easy of solution than would be the case in a conference of foreign countries with divided interests."

"It is confidently hoped that greatly increased trade between the nations forming the empire will result from the Canadian conference. The deliberations of the empire statesmen at Ottawa will be closely watched by the whole world."

Mr. Yarrow spent five weeks in Great Britain and made a personal study of industrial conditions there. He traveled with Mrs. Yarrow from the Coast by the world-cruising Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain through the Panama Canal to New York and Southampton. They traveled by the same ship on the return trip to Quebec.

LINKING EMPIRE BY AIR

One of the most outstanding developments in Great Britain, Mr. Yarrow states, is transportation by air.

"Great foresight is being displayed by the Imperial Airways in linking up the countries of the empire. It is the only transportation concern which reported an increase in business over last year. This is due chiefly to the large and powerful planes that are being operated from London to all parts of Europe, India and East Africa."

These planes carry thirty-eight passengers, two pilots, steward and radio operator, and are the last word in aerial transport.

"Tremendous interest was shown in London when the company inaugurated the London to Capetown air service via Cairo," Mr. Yarrow said.

"The establishment of these air routes is not justifiable now, but the Imperial Airways, always looking ahead, is preparing for future flying travel between the empire countries. There is increasing travel from South Africa to Europe and the new air route is hailed as a popular innovation. There will undoubtedly be a visible preponderance in aerial travel in the future."

Probably the next route to be established by the Imperial Airways, Mr. Yarrow said, would be to Australia. This would be a very important link in the existing service to India.

Mr. Yarrow met and conferred in London with Major G. E. Woodhouse, managing director of the Imperial Airways, who served as an apprentice with the firm of Yarrow and Co.

BASIC TRADES SLACK

While the basic industries of Great Britain were in a deplorably slack state, new industries had been developed, the larger centres are as busy as ever and the people are cheerfully optimistic, said Mr. Yarrow. The theatres were full and a corresponding effort to making the best use of automobiles. But this, he observed, could not be accepted as a true reflection of conditions.

The large department stores of London, dealing in moderately priced merchandise, did a phenomenal business.

BRITAIN'S FAST TIME

As a member of one of the most noted shipbuilding firms in the world, Mr. Yarrow took pride in the performance of the Empress of Britain on her recent passage across the Atlantic.

"She made 24.8 knots and logged 622 nautical miles in twenty-four hours on her best day at sea," said Mr. Yarrow in speaking of the fine steaming qualities of the Empress of Britain.

"She is a ship of which Canada and the Canadian Pacific Railway can be justly proud of," he said. "She is a tribute to British marine engineering skill and designing. I was aboard her for a month and felt proud to be a Canadian on such a magnificent vessel."

Mr. Yarrow said there would be no administrative changes in the company's organization following the death of his father, the late Sir Alfred Yarrow.

Manager of Beach Hotel Comments Upon Spirit of British People

Travel Keeping Up Well on Atlantic Despite World Depression

Capt. William C. Merston, manager of the Beach Hotel, who returned to the city yesterday afternoon after a trip to the United Kingdom, where he was called by the fatal illness of his father, remarked upon the spirit of the British people.

He said the British were probably feeling the effects of the economic depression more than any other country in the world, but the people there were not talking about hard times.

He found London very busy and there was a general air of activity in all the large centres. While the hotelkeepers are not anticipating record-breaking tourist travel this season, the hope is publisher of The Oakville Cruiser at expressed that the movement will be up to the average of recent years.

The reduced ocean rates are expected to attract travel across the Atlantic.

Capt. Merston, returned to Canada by the liner Empress of Britain and spoke of the amount of travel that is being handled. The Empress of Britain carried 180 first-class passengers on her last voyage, which is considered gratifying when comparisons were made with other ships on the Atlantic. The Canadian Pacific trains, said Capt. Merston, are also carrying a fair quota of passengers this early in the season.

TWO VICTORIA GOLFERS WIN

Mrs. Sayward-Wilson and Mrs. Jackson Advance in B.C. Tourney

Vancouver, June 1.—Favorites advanced to the second round of the B.C. Women's Golf Championship at Quilchena course this morning. The feature match saw Miss K. Duff-Stewart, Shaughnessy, eliminate Miss Janet Drysdale, Jericho, on the twenty-first putt.

Miss Stuart's twenty-foot putt, after a recovery from a trap, won her the match on the third extra hole after an even battle over twenty holes.

Mrs. Vera Hutchings, Shaughnessy defending title-holder, had a fairly easy time with Mrs. M. A. McDowell, also of Shaughnessy, winning 4 and 3, but Mrs. G. S. Wismer had a hard fight before eliminating Mrs. E. R. Golding on the nineteenth.

SURPRISE SEEN

The surprise of the second flight was Miss Margaret Wood's victory over Miss M. K. Danks, 1 up.

Detailed results of the championships and second flights follow:

Provincial Football Heads Mean Business in Investigation

Suspension Affects Cream of Football Players in Province

Larry Gains Proves Himself Worthy of Heavyweight Title Bout

Canadian Fighter Handicapped by Color; Walker May Fight Him

MEMBERS OF THE British Columbia Football Association have shown five teams they mean business. At a special meeting Monday the provincial moguls suspended the players and officers of the New Westminster Royals, Vancouver Firemen, Nanaimo, St. Andrews and St. Salvours for failure to produce records and books demanded by the provincial organization. The B.C.F.A. desires these records to continue their investigation of professionalism charges in mainline football. Four of the clubs comprise the Pacific Coast League, while the Firemen are in one of the Vancouver loops. Suspension of the players and officers of these teams has created a serious situation in British Columbia football.

The B.C.F.A. in handing down suspensions on these teams declared them to be until the end of July or until such records or books were produced. By such a ruling the teams are automatically out of the Connaught Cup play-downs, the competition which decides the Canadian champions. The Royals are holders of the Dominion crown and it means they will be unable to defend their honors. Not only are the Royals out but also the cream of British Columbia's footballers. The four coast league teams comprise the best play football in the province and with all of them beyond the pale British Columbia will have a hard time keeping the Canadian title on the coast. Sam Davidson, secretary of the Dominion Football Association, has stated the Dominion body will take no action until the suspended clubs produce their books and until such time it is a matter that will have to be dealt entirely with by the B.C.F.A. This leaves the clubs no alternative but to produce their records or remain suspended.

Officials of the Coast League state they have no objection to giving in to the demand of the B.C.F.A. so that it looks as if these teams will play out-law football, unless some unexpected solution is arrived at. The annual meeting of the provincial organization will be held shortly and should a new slate of officers be elected some action may be seen. However, it is not likely that the "teams" would be reinstated without producing their records and if they were, the D.F.A. would step in and want to know why, when and where.

Larry Gains, great Canadian heavyweight, has proclaimed himself a contender for the world heavyweight boxing championship by his victory Monday night over Primo Carnera, giant Italian, but it is not the weight title, but is concerned, the color line. Ever since the days when Jack Johnson held the championship, the heavyweight titleholders have been drawing the color line. Dempsey refused to fight colored opponent, while Tunney also drew the color line. Gains has issued a challenge to all the leading heavyweights, but it is not likely any of them will be accepted unless that little package of fistic dynamite, Mickey Walker, decides he wants to trade punches with the Canadian. Walker is about the only one of the present-day heavyweights who has shown a willingness to fight all comers.

Usually there seems to be some "big little man" hanging around to torment the heavyweight. There have been others, the most famous of whom was Bob Fitzsimmons. Ruby Robert was still able to make the middleweight limit when he won the heavyweight title from Jim Corbett. However, there is a vast difference when one compares the two men. Fitz performed his feat when good heavyweights were not as scarce as they are to-day. Fitz was a terrific puncher; Walker is no world beater as a hitter; Fitz was lean, heavily built and inclined to be bantam-legged. Sam Langford was a terror among the big fellows when he scaled around 160 pounds. Joe Walcott, Stanley Ketchel and Jack Dillon are other little men who were "giant killers." Walker is something like the faded medium-sized fellow who applied for a job as a giant with a circus. To the objections of the circus manager about his lack of size the applicant said: "That's just the big point. You can advertise me as the smallest giant in the world."

JERSEY CITY CREEPING UP

Cellar Team in International Baseball Wins Seven of Last Eleven Games

Inefficient pitching has been the chief contributing cause to Jersey City's annual plunge into the depths of the International League's second division, but things are looking up for the Skeeters at this moment.

Under a new manager, Charley Moore, the Skeeters have won seven of their last eleven games, chiefly because of tight, effective hurling, and now have moved into sixth place, a notch ahead of Toronto and two above Reading.

Pete Donohue, veteran major league right hander, who pitched and won his first game for the Skeeters a few days ago, repeated at the expense of Newark's Beane yesterday. Donohue allowed only eight hits to win, 3 to 1.

Buffalo holds lead. Meanwhile Buffalo protected its one-game by walloping Toronto, 10 to 8, in a heavy slugfest in which eight pitchers saw service. Tucker's home run, double and single drove in five runs for the Bisons. Miller also hit for the circuit to give the Bisons a record of seventeen home runs in three days.

Baltimore made fourteen hits, good for twenty-one bases, off Miltstead and Adams and beat Reading Keys, 12 to 2. Charley Wilson led Rochester to a 3 to 1 victory over Montreal Royals. Wilson slugged a home run, double and two singles.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Dewar Receive Tribute of City Players at Presentation

Victoria's lawn bowling fraternity yesterday gathered at the Beacon Hill greens to honor Dave Dewar, popular secretary of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club, at a delightful presentation ceremony. Tribute was also paid to Mrs. Dave Dewar.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewar will leave tomorrow on a vacation trip to eastern Canada. Members of the Victoria club and others of the city attended the function yesterday, indicating their esteem for the pair. Mr. Dewar was playing a farewell game preceding his preparation for his trip when play was halted and the assembly called him to their midst.

J. Goldie, vice-president of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club, explained the reason for the gathering, paying tribute to the services of the honored member.

Mr. Dewar, who retired from the Federal Department of Customs a short time ago, has been secretary of the Victoria Club for the last twelve years. He is known to virtually all the bowlers of the city as well as all those who have visited here from outside points. He and his wife are expected to return here in the latter part of September.

During the course of their tour they will visit Edmonton for a week and will spend a fortnight in Winnipeg before proceeding to Toronto where they are expected to arrive on July 1. For the following two months they will visit various points in Ontario.

BILLIARD MATCH

Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, B.C.S.L., will be represented by Fitzsimmons, McKelrick, Thornborough, Flood, Clarke and Mountain in the second half of their friendly billiard match with the Army and Navy Club at the Pro Patria rooms to-morrow evening at 7:15 o'clock. All fixtures will be 200 up. Members of the Inter-service Billiards League and their friends are invited to attend.

Eighteen-year-old Girl Proves Hard Hitter

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times. London.—Katharine Stammers, now in the tennis limelight, is the eighteen-year-old St. Alban's girl, who, in her first big tournament of the season, became the Surrey hard-court woman champion after a run of victories over three Wimbledon Cup players. She won again in the West Side Country Club tournament at Ealing, beating Miss F. Scott of Suffolk in the final round 6-3, 6-3. Miss Scott was an accepted competitor at the last Wimbledon championships.

Compared with most young women Miss Scott would be described as a hard hitter, but she was clearly out-paced by her youthful left-handed opponent. Many a rally of fast driving ended with a shot from Miss Stammers' racket which Miss Scott could only stand and admire.

There is only one blemish on the stroke equipment of the Hertfordshire girl. She has a tendency frequently to serve double faults, which in a tight match, is likely to let her down. In another way, however, those faults indicate the admirable spirit in which this youngster is tackling the problems of a difficult game. She risks a fault with her second service rather than send over a weak ball that could be used by a good driver. In this way she may nowadays lose an important match, but in the end she is likely to go farther.

After being out of competitive tennis for many months with an injured foot, Nigel Sharpe reached the final round in the North London tournament. There he was defeated by H. F. David, the Midlands player by 6-4, 6-4. In the semi-final round Sharpe beat K. Prasad, India's Davis Cup captain.

The finals of the Cambridge University hard-court tournament were decided at Fenner's and were noteworthy for the defeat of C. R. D. Turkey by C. E. Malfroy and the New Zealand player, with the score of 6-2, 6-3, 6-6.

Mr. Tuckey who gained merited applause at Southampton recently by defeating international trials players R. J. Ritchie and E. R. Avory. Tuckey and J. L. H. Fletcher beat C. E. Malfroy and J. Charaniwa (Punjab and Emmanuel) in the doubles final by 1-6, 7-5, 6-2, 6-1.

There is no doubt of the merit of the system followed by Hagen and other good golfers in "locking" their heads downward and toward the right shoulder. But there comes a time when "unlocking" must follow.

Harry Cooper, now one of golf's five most consistent scorers, begins to turn his head an infinitesimal fraction after hitting the ball. Defeats Northamptonshire By Fifteen Runs in English County Cricket

London, June 1.—Hampshire defeated Northamptonshire by fifteen runs in a first-class county cricket match concluding yesterday. First-junior victories were recorded by Middlesex over Nottinghamshire, Surrey over Glamorganshire, and Leicestershire over Lancashire.

The match between Worcestershire and Somersetshire was drawn, as was the Essex-All-India fixture. Three other scheduled fixtures were abandoned, rain having prevented play on all three days. These were the Yorkshire-Kent, Warwickshire-Gloucestershire and Derbyshire-Sussex matches.

Closing scores were as follows: At Peterborough—Hampshire, 149 and 60 (Jupp six wickets for 21); Northamptonshire, 107 and 87 (Bailey five for 82 and 17 for 52; Kennedy six wickets for 21). At Lord's—Nottinghamshire, 88 for seven, declared, and 100 for four wickets; Middlesex, 186 (Stevens 56, Sam Staples five wickets for 88). At Swansea—Surrey, 203 and 74 for four (Mercer four wickets for 52); Glamorganshire, 156 (Duckfield 62 not out, Brown four wickets for 55 and Gregory four for 28).

At Leicester—Leicestershire, 144 and 84 for one wicket (Berr 56, not out); Lancashire, 136 (Tyldesley 63, Paynter 52, Marlow five wickets for 25, and Smart five for 17).

At Worcester—Worcestershire, 118 for eight, declared; Somersetshire 30 for one wicket.

HOME RUNS

Enid Lombardi, Cincinnati's clutching catcher, won official recognition of her right to contend with the other leading batsmen of the National League yesterday and stepped into second place in the circuit and third in the Big Six. He is just over the dividing mark of 100 times at bat.

Only the league leader, P. Wane, did a better hitting job than the new-comer on his first day. Wane hit three out of four, sending his average up nine points to .328, while Lombardi hit twice in four times. The other two Big Six players who were in action, Jimmie Fox and Chick Hefey, made one hit apiece and lost ground.

Vancouver Welterweight Drops Close Decision to New Yorker; Trudeau Loses

Vancouver, June 1.—Lee Page, dusky welterweight from New York, took a close six-round decision from Nels Ferguson, Vancouver, in the main event on a boxing card here yesterday evening.

Both boys were fast and mixed freely with the New Yorker having the edge in the fighting.

In the semi-windup Harry Marshall, Portland, took the nod over Phil Trudeau, former Winnipeg battler in six last rounds of milling. Marshall came from behind in the last three rounds to gain the decision. Both weighed 130.

In the other six rounds on the card, Bearcat Baker, light-heavyweight, Seattle, defeated George Rickard, Winnipeg. Rickard was down for a short count in the fifth but held his own with the hard-hitting Seattle boy in the other rounds.

Mrs. Philbrick And Miss Jones Winners

Mrs. Philbrick won the six-month class "A" electric round which was completed at the Victoria Golf Club yesterday, finishing with 67, 2 1-3, 64 2-3. Mrs. Sayward-Wilson was second with 68, 2 5-6, Miss Ruth Jones won the prize in class "B" with 75, 7 68, while Mrs. Muggrave was next with 78, 9 1-3, 65 2-3.

Taiyos chalked up their first victory in the Twilight Baseball League yesterday evening at the Royal Athletic Park, when they handed the Rosebuds a 9 to 1 setback. After being held to a 1 to 0 lead up until the fourth the Japanese nine scored eight runners in the last five innings.

A. Kuwabara, on the mound for the Taiyos, allowed six hits, while he struck out eight. G. Jones, who hurried for the Rosebuds, was nipped for ten hits and whiffed eight. The Japs turned in a fine exhibition in the field, only one error being chalked against them, but the Rosebuds had a bad night, eight errors proving costly.

M. Ashikawa and A. Kuwabara led the hitters for the evening, each with two safeties out of four times at bat.

Charles (Red) Lucas, star member of Cincinnati's mound staff, apparently is out to set a modern record for complete games pitched in a season, and with full approval of Manager Dan Howley. Thus far, the popular red-head has started and finished ten contests, with the campaign less than a third gone, and has won seven of them.

Col. Howley's sympathy with Lucas's ambition was demonstrated yesterday when the Reds took a 4 to 1 beating from Pittsburgh and fell back into a tie with the Pirates for third place in the National League. Lucas yielded six hits and four runs in the first two innings, but stuck it out to allow only three hits the rest of the way.

The battle for top position in the National League remained at a standstill as both Chicago and Boston won. The Cubs defeated St. Louis, 3 to 1, behind Lon Warlick's six-hit pitching, while Ed Brandt southpawed the Braves to a 7 to 2 triumph over the New York Giants.

Brooklyn and the Phillies were not scheduled, the lopsided contest causing the Dodgers to drop back into fifth place after a day of affluence in the first division.

WIN IN TWELFTH
Lusty hitting by Helme Manush in the extra innings enabled Washington Senators to take a hot one from the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 4, in twelve rounds and go into a virtual tie with Detroit for second place in the American. Manush slugged a home run in the eleventh frame and when that was not enough to win, came right back with a triple in the twelfth that scored Buddy Myer with the winning run. The day's only other contest in the American resulted in a 6 to 5 victory for the embattled Chicago White Sox over Cleveland. Errors by Vosmik and Morgan helped the Sox score five times in the sixth inning.

Detroit was rained out at St. Louis.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Philadelphia, June 1.—Helme Manush's bat broke up a long ball game yesterday and gave Washington a 5 to 4 decision over the Athletics after twelve innings of clapping. The triumph put the Senators into a virtual tie with Detroit for second place and cost the A's a chance to capture third place.

Manush nearly won the game in the eleventh after Tony Freitas, the A's newly acquired left hander, finally had been taken out and George Barnshaw was pitching. Helme welcomed Barnshaw's arrival on the hill with a home run that gave Washington the lead. Philadelphia tied the score again, but the next time Manush came to bat he was out. Three Local Soccer Teams Advance In Canadian Series

Esquimalt, Thistles And Wests Benefit Through Suspensions

Local Clubs Go Into Second Round of Connaught Cup Series by Taking Matches From Suspended Coast League Elevens by Default; Wests Will Meet Vancouver Chinese Students Here at Early Date; Victoria City to Meet Renfrew Argyles in First Round at Vancouver as Scheduled

Suspension of the four clubs of the Pacific Coast Football League by the British Columbia Football Association has completely changed the draw for the Connaught Cup series, as far as three Victoria teams are concerned. Further details regarding the suspension of the Coast teams were secured to-day from Alex. Marshall, Victoria member of the B.C.F.A. Council, who attended today's meeting in Vancouver at which session the suspensions were handed out.

According to the Victoria member the Coast clubs are suspended for two months, at which time the annual meeting of the B.C.F.A. will be held and the matter will be again brought up for discussion. However, the four teams in question, New Westminster Royals, St. Saviours, St. Andrews and Esquimalt City, are definitely out of the Connaught Cup series, Mr. Marshall states. Saanich Thistles, Esquimalt and Victoria West, who were drawn against St. Saviours, Westminster Royals and Esquimalt City, respectively, in the first round, all advance into the second round as the result of the suspensions. Victoria City, the fourth local team in the play-downs, will play-off their first round fixture with Renfrew Argyles as scheduled. In the second round the Thistles will engage the winner of the first round match engagement between Kerrisdale and Sons of Scotland, and the Wests will meet the Chinese Students. The latter match will be played in Victoria as soon as the Royal Athletic Park is available. Mr. Marshall is now making arrangements for the match

Mrs. Vera Hutchings, Shaughnessy, Wins Qualifying Round in Provincial Play by Six Strokes From Closest Rival; Mrs. F. Sayward-Wilson, Victoria, Eight Strokes Behind; Titleholder Favored to Repeat Over Quilchena Course

Vancouver, June 1.—Mrs. Vera Hutchings, Vancouver, won the qualifying round of the B.C. women's championship, played over the tough Quilchena course yesterday, she got a brilliant 84 to have a six-stroke edge on her nearest competitor.

Mrs. R. P. Baker, Jericho, was runner-up, scoring a 90; Miss N. King, Point Grey, had a 91 and both Mrs. F. Sayward-Wilson, Victoria, and Mrs. Gordon Wiemer, Shaughnessy, turned in cards of 92.

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times
London.—First impressions of Miss Joyce Wethered's play are that she will hold again this season the reputation of the being the world's greatest golfer. After recently breaking her engagement to marry, she played her first competitive game this week at St. George's Hill, Weybridge in the women's spring medal foursomes—after having retired from the game.

First round of the flights are billed for to-day. They will play again tomorrow and wind up on Friday. Eighteen holes will be the distance of all the matches, except the final in the championship flight, it will go thirty-six holes on Friday.

Eight matches are being played in the championship flight to-day, four in each of the first and second flights and two in the third flight. Mrs. Hutchings shot steady golf throughout, her chief trouble being on the greens like all the other competitors. Her final score of 84 was two over women's par. She had a birdie two on the eighth and birdie four on the tenth and sixteenth, was even par on the third, fourth, sixth, ninth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth and eighteenth, and one stroke over par on each of the other five holes.

Mrs. Baker went out in 43, but took a 47 on the second nine, while Miss N. King, away to a bad start on the first three holes, picked up finely and had nines of 46 and 46.

Advancement into the second round without having to play their matches is a lucky break for the three Victoria clubs, although they will not get the advantage of the gates. Mr. Marshall stated to-day that New Westminster Royals feel annoyed over their elimination from the Canadian championship series, but have no comeback. If the four Coast League clubs go through with their scheduled matches this Saturday, they will be classed as outlaw clubs, he said. Just what action will be taken at the annual meeting of the B.C.F.A. is not known. If the four suspended clubs turn over their records and books it is possible the suspension will be lifted and they will again be in the good graces of the ruling powers. However, if they still refuse to comply with the request of the provincial organization their suspension may become permanent.

Big League Baseball

By AL DEMARKE

Sometimes it is impossible for the young pitcher, anxious to acquire control, to have a catcher and opposing batter with whom to practice. While a fixed target is not as valuable practice, it can be of great assistance. Just in front of a shed or fence, lay out a home plate of correct size. At the proper distance (60 feet 5 inches) have a pitching plate. About 2 feet directly above the home plate, paint a rectangle exactly the width of the plate and about 3 feet high, representing the actual pitching area between shoulder and knee. Then try to pitch to various spots in the rectangle. Pitch some through the middle and then try to pitch to the "corners" of the plate. By "corners" is meant getting a "piece" of the plate either on the left or right side and by either a fast or curve ball. Applying some white substance to the ball, which will not make it too slippery, will be of assistance, as it will enable you to see clearly where the ball landed.

The other Chicago players were fined, but not suspended, while Moriarty was severely reprimanded for "neglect of duty." ENGLISH WORSHIP NEW FIGHT HERO

Orphan Don McCorkindale Comes From Pretoria; Greyhound Racing His Hobby

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times
London.—Don McCorkindale is the new big Englishman. Almost unknown to the English ringside a few months back, he is to-day being called the world's most remarkable heavyweight boxer.

A former railway engineer of Pretoria, he came to London some nine months ago as the South African heavyweight champion. And he has sprung into fame through fighting as a substitute. His first big chance was when he substituted for Hein Muller, the German heavyweight champion, against Larry Gains and now, taking the place of Gains against Muller, he has achieved the greatest victory of his short professional career.

He won a twelve-round contest at the Albert Hall, Kensington, on points. Indeed, he defeated Muller with one hand, his left, which shot to and fro like a piston rod.

Muller is a fair-haired Teuton, a tall angular fellow with a broken nose. Lion-hearted, and reckoned a good sportsman, McCorkindale at the finish had him weeping in his corner from sheer disappointment.

The famous midge boxer of a few years back, Jimmy Wilde, refereed the fight in white spats. Strangely enough the result came as a general surprise. All of the critics had written it up as a foregone conclusion that the German would win. McCorkindale had only been called upon three days before the contest and he had only one day's real training.

Muller had taken the ring with the warning ringing in his ears—beware of McCorkindale's right-arm swinging hook. He was obsessed by that danger and lost because he showed no more than a vague notion how to stop a straight left. He was very clever at feinting and quick in his ducking. But his defence was very poor; he had very little cover for his body.

By his readiness to fight the Springbok has become a prime favorite and he got quite an ovation at the end. Stepping out of his corner he started off immediately with a straight left which he might have borrowed from the late Jim Driscoll. And he kept that going right up to the last round before attempting that over-arm punch which nearly brought a knockout. It is now being claimed that when McCorkindale is in this mood he can stay with anybody breathing. He escaped punishment entirely. Muller, however, was heavily marked about the face. There was a cut above the left eye, there was a bruise below his right and his face was puffy. It was evidence of the perpetual battering he sustained.

On the form, the estimates that have put Muller as within measurable distance of Max Schmeling, now read as pure nonsense. He is a good, honest

Chicago Pressure Sends Wheat Level Down At Winnipeg

Winnipeg, June 1.—Sympathetic to material downfalls in grain prices at Chicago, where prices here eased somewhat in mixed trade-to-day. Prices at the close were 1/2 lower in all three futures.

July closed at 61 1/2; October at 64 and December at 65 1/2.

Chicago prices slumped on reports that the government proposed to levy a tax on grain futures trading. Some export trade was worked but no estimate was available.

Away to a good start on reports of fair export and strength at Chicago credited to improvement in stocks, the local market quickly cemented gains in the first hour. Bearish reports of United States winter wheat and rains in the west, however, took the edge off the advance. Prices tumbled during the last hour in sympathy with Chicago on reports of an advance in the United States sales tax on wheat from 2c to 5c per $100 of value.

Demand for the top grades of cash wheat was good at spreads 1/4 to 1/2 better than the previous closing differences. In the futures closing grain prices were liquidated in sympathy with wheat and at one time had dropped to three cents under the previous close. Buying near the close brought values back fractionally.

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)

Winnipeg, June 1.—Wheat prices broke into new lows on the movement to-day, sinking to about 1 cent under the close last night, and showed little recovery from bottom levels despite the fact that a good class of buying was going on. The chief weakness was in Chicago, where the July future broke 2 cents on the extreme break. The action was disappointing and while fractionally higher prices were placed at the start, with cables a little firmer than day, and some export work, but did not show the expected strength early in the morning. Stocks were strong, but the security market again sold off to around last night's close.

Chicago interests were the best sellers in this market as local offerings were on the light side, but there was some liquidation in sympathy with the decline in Chicago. Export sales overnight were finally placed at 500,000 bushels Manitoba.

The weakness in Chicago really started after the private crop reports were issued. The average of the five private reports as of June 1 on winter wheat was 433,000,000 bushels, which compares with the average private reports of last month of 466,000,000 bushels, and the government report for May of 441,000,000 bushels were about as expected. The four private reports on spring wheat of 466,000,000 bushels, which compares with final harvested last year of 105,000,000 bushels on this basis, total winter and spring wheat production in the United States suggests a yield of 466,000,000 bushels as compared with final harvested last year of 892,000,000 bushels, or a reduction of 306,000,000 bushels, which will affect to some extent by the larger carryover and smaller export demand.

In the local cash market there was a better demand to-day, and with offerings light, spreads were 1/2 to 1/4 better. The general precipitation over the entire North American wheat belt, both sides of the border, was another bearish factor and further unsettled weather was forecasted. The acreage in western Canada is estimated by American crop experts at 26,890,000 acres, with conditions as good as against 82, at this time a year ago.

Country marketings in the Canadian west Tuesday were 911,000 bushels against 642,000 bushels a year ago.

Winnipeg closed 1/2 lower.

Coarse grains: There was fair buying of July oats for both domestic and export business, but outside of this there was no real support to the market. Grain and barley and rye prices were sharply lower in sympathy with the break in wheat, and the general trend.

CHICAGO

(By Logan & Bryan)

Chicago, June 1.—Wheat: June price broke for forecasts on winter wheat were as bullish as expected, but the outside conditions adverse. They had little effect. With winter wheat estimate averages 433,000,000 bushels and the spring wheat estimates from 249,000,000 to 260,000,000 bushels, the total crop will be around 675,000,000 to 685,000,000 bushels, which is about double the requirements. This makes a difference in the picture of a year ago, but while the winter wheat situation is very bullish, it appears to be impossible to enlist aggressive buying support.

To-day's weather map showed splendid rains throughout Canada and our northwest and this helped nullify effect of the bullish winter wheat reports. Export trade quiet. Liverpool closed 1/2 lower after being relatively strong for a time earlier.

The stock market turned weak after being decidedly strong early in the morning. The action of the market will be affected by outside conditions. Corn: Sold off sharply following the decline in wheat, with some support on the decline covering. Earlier the tone was rather firm. Shipping trade slow and there was but little country selling. Good rains over large part of the corn territory. Primary arrivals 354,000 bushels against 420,000 bushels last year. With reports indicating a big increase in acreage and crop conditions favorable, bulges may be hard to hold.

Oats: Crop estimates ranged from 1,066,000,000 to 1,328,000,000 bushels. The market was affected by the decline in wheat and corn.

Rye: Crop estimates were about 43,000,000 bushels. Trade was moderate with prices following general trend of wheat.

AIR ROUTES LINK EUROPE

London Brought Near to All
Great Capitals of Europe By Fast Summer Services

London, June 1.—Regular daily air services from London to 130 European cities and towns are provided by the 1932 summer time-table of Imperial Airways, which is now in operation to fewer than sixty-nine of these places can be reached in less than twelve hours flying from the London air station, though some are located in countries as far away as Sweden, Spain and Italy.

With a very few exceptions every day on the European air network is now less than two days' travel on the established routes. London is the hub of the network, and from there the English capital is right on the northwest corner of the continent. Routes serving London directly radiate to France, Germany, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland, connecting in those lands with air lines serving other countries.

The large four-engine Handley-page landplanes and short flying boats in the Imperial Airways fleet each carry nowadays two uniformed stewards in the crew who provide travelers with meals and refreshments from well furnished buffets. Breakfast is served on the early morning runs, a four-course lunch is provided on the mid-day London-Paris express, and dinner may be taken on board the evening liner.

Acceleration of the time schedules made possible by the employment of these planes, which are faster than older members of the company's fleet, enables those who wish to leave London in the morning, spend nearly seven hours in Paris and return to London the same evening. Switzerland and back—for an urgent business talk, perhaps—is also a flight that can be done in the day; seven years ago a pilot got the front page in every newspaper when he accomplished this feat for the first time.

Including the African and India services, British air liners are now flying regularly over more than 14,000 miles of established air routes in three continents. Fifty main and intermediate air stations serve this great network of air highways.

NEW SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

Several Changes Noted in B.C. Summer Coast Runs to Alaska Points

The B.C. Coast Service schedule to Alaska for the summer months has been revised and the Ss. Princess Norah will take the first trip of the summer season, sailing from Vancouver on Saturday, June 11. It was announced here this morning. This will be the Norah's last trip of the year to Alaska, as she is scheduled to enter service to the West Coast of Vancouver Island later this month.

During the summer season, which will last from June 11 to August 27, the Princess Louise, the Princess Alice and the Princess Charlotte are scheduled to make a total of sixteen round trips to Alaska. The Princess Louise is scheduled to enter service to the West Coast of Vancouver Island later this month.

Acceleration of the time schedules made possible by the employment of these planes, which are faster than older members of the company's fleet, enables those who wish to leave London in the morning, spend nearly seven hours in Paris and return to London the same evening. NAVAL MEN ENTERTAINED

Men from H.M.C.S. Skeena and H.M.C.S. Vancouver were guests of honor at an enjoyable smoking concert held yesterday afternoon at the Esplanade of the Naval Veterans' Branch of the Canadian Legion. A fine musical programme was given and the "boys in blue" thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality of the men who once served at sea themselves. Harry Smith, president of the branch, occupied the chair.

Commander Victor Brodeur, R.C.N., commander-in-charge at the Esplanade, who spoke yesterday, was represented by W. G. Stone, representing the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion; Leut. Hughes and J. J. Blair, chairman of the district council of the Canadian Legion.

Taking part in the excellent musical programme were Comrades J. Smith, B. Robery, J. Sheppard, T. Raymond, R. Robery, J. Green, R. Robery, Pomeroy and Hyne.

CABLE HEAD IS HONORED

Ten Thousand Employees Present Governor With Book With Their Signatures

All Agreed Voluntarily to Accept Reduction in Pay For Period This Year

A remarkable birthday gift was recently made to J. C. Denison-Pender, governor and managing director of Cables and Wireless Limited, and at present acting as chairman of Imperial and International Communications Limited.

The gift, which was presented May 10 on his fiftieth birthday, was in form of a volume containing over 10,000 signatures of the staff of the great cable and wireless combine scattered throughout the world. About fifty different nationalities were represented among the subscribers and local and native employees of the company in various parts of the world signed in their own national characters, or unable to write, made their mark.

Every signatory agreed voluntarily to suffer a reduction in pay and an increase in hours of duty between April and December, 1932. This was a voluntary concession made by the staff, who were protected by five-year agreements entered into at the time of the Cable-Wireless merger. A recent appeal by Mr. Denison-Pender, however, pointed out that owing to the world crisis and its adverse effect on the company—as indicated by the passing of the dividend on the Cables and Wireless preference stock—the necessity had come for a common effort and sacrifice from the top to the bottom of the service.

In expressing his gratification at the response, Mr. Denison-Pender pointed out that it has come from those who have contributed so materially in different parts of the world to the making of England, and this demonstration of loyalty is further proof that by sacrifice and co-operation England will remain the leader in the world.

In a personal message to the staff on behalf of the directors, he stated: "They consider you have all shown an example of self-sacrifice and loyalty that will forever live in the history of the company." A resolution to this effect was recorded in the minutes of the company.

BOUGHT AND BUILT SHIPS

He bought and operated the steamships Chief Capilano, third largest freighter in the world, and later built for his fleet the steamship Melinau, a modern type vessel of large tonnage.

Although his private interests occupied a great deal of his time and energy, they were not sufficient to prevent him from playing a leading part in general business development of Canada and British Columbia. He was president of Vancouver Merchants' Exchange in 1924; president of the Vancouver Board of Trade in 1925-26; president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in 1928, and president of the Vancouver Chamber of Shipping in 1931.

Mr. Dollar devoted much time and money to various industrial pursuits of the province, the most important of which, perhaps, was the Gregory Tire and Rubber Company 1926 Limited, in which concern he held an executive position.

Mr. Dollar made many loyal friendships. He believed in wholesome relaxation and liked nothing better than to cruise the Coast waters aboard his handsome yacht, the Rio Bonita. He was his own sailing master and possessed an intimate knowledge of local waters and conditions. He also had acquired a keen deep-sea shipping insight, and it is stated he never sent a ship on a voyage without making personal inspection of the craft from keel to trucks.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

In passing, Melville Dollar left many friends and acquaintances in Victoria and elsewhere on Vancouver Island. He made many visits to Victoria and was well-known to local shipping men. His yacht, the Rio Bonita, was a frequent visitor to Victoria with her owner aboard.

Jamaica has exported this year more products than in the same period of 1931.

For the last fifteen years Mr. Dollar had been actively identified with industrial progress of this city and the development of the port. As head of the Canadian-American Shipping Company Limited, he was a well-known figure in the shipping life not only of Vancouver but of the entire Coast. He had held many important posts in shipping and industrial organizations.

He is survived by a widow and four sons, Stuart, Melville, Ira Allen and Robert McVea, and three daughters, Mary Grace, Winona and May Bernice. Two brothers, R. Stanley Dollar and J. Harold Dollar, both of San Francisco, and Mrs. Robert Dollar, his mother, also of that city, R. Stanley Dollar is head of the Dollar Steamship Lines and the American Mail Line.

It was while Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dollar were living in Bracebridge, Ont., that A. Melville was born October 26, 1878. He was their eldest son. During his boyhood and early youth his father was laying foundation of the great industrial and transportation structure which has made Victoria daily a household term throughout the world.

Educated in the public schools and later acquiring a thorough business knowledge, he was a graduate of the college of self-made men and well fitted to play a leading role in making the huge Dollar interests international in scope.

Mr. Dollar was always a true Canadian, and one of the most firm believers in the future of Vancouver as a great world port. He centered his interests in this city, linking his own future with that of Vancouver.

In 1918 the Canadian Robert Dollar Company established headquarters in this city, and A. Melville Dollar came from San Francisco to take charge, under the general supervision of his father. For six years following the Dollar ships made Vancouver their home port and carried on an increasing trade.

It was in 1922 that Robert Dollar and his other two sons decided to withdraw from the Vancouver offices and centralize their energies in San Francisco. Determination to remain in Vancouver and carry on business under the Canadian flag was voiced by A. Melville Dollar, with the result that he applied his interests in the big Dollar companies in establishment of Dollar companies in establishment of the Canadian-American Shipping Company.

He commenced independent operation of his own ships, chartered others and secured the agency for various lines. Under his direction, the organization was expanded to a point where it was considered one of the largest and most sound shipping concerns on the Coast.

He bought and operated the steamships Chief Capilano, third largest freighter in the world, and later built for his fleet the steamship Melinau, a modern type vessel of large tonnage.

Around the Docks

After being overhauled in the Dominion Government drydock at Esquimalt, H.M.C.S. Skeena, of the Esquimalt Naval Station, was floated out this morning and was returned to her base. She was put in the basin Monday morning and was given cleaning and painting. It was the second time the Skeena had been in the dock. Shortly after she arrived from England last August she was put in for overhaul following her long voyage.

Bound for ports along the West Coast of Vancouver Island, the C.P.R. steamer Princess Maquima will sail from the Belleville Street docks this evening at midnight with a good load of passengers and a capacity cargo of Victoria and Vancouver freight.

Princess Maquima will be overhauled later this month before starting her tourist season to the West Coast in July.

With cargo for discharge at this port, the Kingsley Navigation Company's coastal freighter Kingsley sailed from San Francisco yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock for this port. King Brothers, local agents, were advised this morning. She will dock at the Ogden Point pier Saturday morning.

To load a parcel of Vancouver Island lumber at Port Alberni, the freighter Beljeanne is expected at the William Head quarantine station first thing to-morrow morning from sea. She will return to the West Coast port after passing medical inspection, and will later load at Vancouver.

Sailing from San Francisco yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the Pacific Steamship Company liner, Emma Alexander is expected here to-morrow evening about 10 o'clock. She is bringing in a large list of passengers.

Capt. J. P. Webster, commander of the Holland-American motorship Delftdyk, this morning advised A. F. Moffatt, local agent, that he would drop anchor at the William Head quarantine station to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock, inbound from Rotterdam and London, by way of the Panama Canal and California ports. The Delftdyk has 140 tons of general cargo and six passengers for Victoria.

There were more than 500 passengers aboard the liner H. F. Alexander when she sailed from Victoria yesterday evening at 10 o'clock on her first trip of the season. The "H.F." crack ship of the Pacific Steamship Company's fleet, made the trip over to Victoria in fast time, being tied up at night's fast exactly four hours after leaving Seattle.

Nearly 300 passengers from Seattle left the ship here and visited places of interest about the city. A large group of Victoria and Vancouver people boarded the liner here, as they will reach San Francisco at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Ships arriving at Vancouver yesterday included the Hauraki, which passed by Victoria early in the morning from New Zealand and the San Francisco, which also passed by Victoria, inbound from ports in Germany, by way of the Panama Canal and California.

When the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia arrives here on her next trip from the Orient she will spend only a week in port at Vancouver. She is due here from the Orient and Honolulu on Friday, June 10, and will sail out on Saturday, June 11. The Asia is now on her way across the Pacific from Yokohama to Honolulu and is due at the Hawaiian port on Saturday.

In House Illegally, Bill Safeguards Runciman From Fine

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times
London.—The remarkable constitutional comedy resulting from the sudden discovery that the president of the board of trade, Hqn. Walter Runciman, was debarred by an ancient law
from sitting in the House of Commons, broke abruptly into the budget
discussions and compelled the government to take immediate action in order to regularize the position.

No one seems to have had the least inkling of such a disqualification until some private investigator of constitutional law stumbled upon it during his researches. It appears that under a law passed in 1705, in the reign of Queen Anne, no occupant of any office of profit under the crown who might be thereafter appointed should be qualified to sit or vote in the House of Commons under a penalty of $500 for each occasion. This provision was modified in 1820 and again in 1909,
but on the latter occasion the office of president of the board of trade appears to have been overlooked, with the result that all the holders of that post since 1909 have been illegally sitting in the Commons, rendering themselves liable to enormous penalties should any common informer enter an action against them. Mr.

Runciman, who has twice held the post, was liable to penalties of over $30,000, while both Mr. Baldwin and Sir Philip Cunliffe Lister (Secretary of State for the Colonies) who have both been at the board of trade, were equally liable.

The result of this extraordinary situation was that a bill was rushed through both Houses of Parliament at a single sitting, removing the disqualification and indemnifying Mr.
Runciman and his predecessors against any penalties to which their unwitting breach of the law might expose them.

parently as a consequence of reported subversive activities among his followers.

Gen. Pangalos was given a week in which to appeal from the decision.

WOMEN MEET AT LANGFORD

Teas to Be Held This Month
in Aid of Hospital and Solarium

Langford, June 1.—Langford Women's Institute met Tuesday, Mrs. P. N.
Welch presiding. The meeting voted that the per capita grant be paid, also the subscription to the League of Nations be renewed. Mrs. H. A. Hincks was appointed convener.

Miss L. M. A. Savory offered her home, "Swastika," for a silver tea on June 15, in aid of the funds of the Royal Jubilee Hospital and Institute
dues to the Local Council of Women.

Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen offered to have a garden party at Marshwood on July 8, the funds of the Queen Alexandra
Solarium and local Women's Institute to benefit by same.

The Institute's directors, also Mrs.
J. M. Ritchie and Mrs. H. A. Hincks, with Mrs. Bullen, were appointed a committee for these events.

Organizing of night school classes was left over until the September meeting. A petition to reinstate nurses on Indian reserves will be sent from the Institute. Suggestions were considered for the Institute flower show and the schedule will be shortly drawn up by members. The need of clearing broom around the hall being voiced by members, it was decided to ask assistance of the Boy Scouts to eradicate it.

Mrs. W. T. Dixon offered her home for the social meeting on Tuesday, June 14, and Mrs. A. Moir invited the members to Cherry Bank, Langford
Lake, for the monthly meeting in June.

The thanks of the members were given to Mrs. D. Malcolm for a donation of six embroidered towels to be raffled for the Institute's funds. Condolence was passed to Mrs. Frank Campbell, a former Institute member,
on the death of her husband.

"The Questionnaire" of the convener of education was discussed and owing to lack of time, Mrs. P. N. Welch's paper on "The School Survey System" was deferred until the June meeting.

Frythums decorated the tea table
the hostesses being Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen and Miss Savory.

Court Maple Leaf—Court Maple Leaf
A.O.F. will hold a social evening on Thursday, June 2, at the home of Mrs. E. Jarvis, 1239 Seaview Avenue.
All members are requested to attend.

St. John's A.Y.P.A.—St. John's
A.Y.P.A. held a combined business and social meeting Monday evening. Canon
F. A. P. Chadwick reported that Rev.
Montague Bruce has given the A.Y.P.A. permission to hold a picnic on the grounds surrounding his beautiful home at Mt. Newton on July 13. Canon
Chadwick presented to Mr. and Mrs.
John Homer, who were married recently, with a beautiful cake plate purchased by the young people of St.
John's as a token of appreciation for all this young couple has done in the A.Y.P.A. After other business had been dispensed with, Roberta Bosu-tow attempted to make novelists out of the young people present. First she placed a tray on the table, on which several articles were placed.
Everyone was allowed five minutes to commit these articles to memory, then the tray was removed and each member had to list as many articles as he or she could remember and then build a story around these "clues," having as the plot a murder. Molly Pittman managed to write the best murder mystery and was duly rewarded, while Evelyn Hooper won the bobby prize. Refreshments were served.

DROPPED IN FOR A VISIT

Faulty brakes were the cause of Mrs. E. L. Denny of Los Angeles, and her son, Jesse Parker, playing host to an unexpected visitor, Raymond Gutierrez. Mrs. Denny was lying on a couch when Raymond, fifteen, crashed in on the family. The car he was driving got out of control and plunged into the side of the house, as shown in the upper picture. Below is shown how close the car came to the couch on which Mrs. Denny was lying.
